Social Studies K–12 Learning Standards for Social Studies Skills, Civics, Economics, Geography, and History
Adoption Statement

A paramount duty of public education is to develop an active and engaged citizenry. We underscore that duty in our agency vision: All students prepared for post-secondary pathways, careers, and civic engagement.

In this increasingly complex and interconnected world, students who are equipped with skills of authentic inquiry and who know geography, civics, economics, and history can move forward with the confidence that they are prepared to engage with the world. The more important question is, will the world be ready to engage with them?

The revised Social Studies standards align with the College, Career, and Civic Readiness (C3) standards developed in partnership with the National Council for the Social Studies. Created by Washington Social Studies teacher leaders, administrators, content experts, civic organizations, and stakeholder groups, these standards reflect the breadth and depth of Social Studies content.

Public comment, input from the state Curriculum Advisory and Review Committee, and a bias and sensitivity review provided opportunities to refine the standards further.

Perhaps the most important revision to the Social Studies standards is the movement of Social Studies skills to the forefront. While the former standards contained a skills section, the new standards recognize that the ability to understand and apply reasoning skills; apply research; deliberate, form, and evaluate positions are important skills not only for Social Studies, but for success in any discipline.

As Superintendent of Public Instruction, and a former Social Studies teacher, I am dedicated to ensuring our public schools provide a well-rounded education that includes a robust Social Studies education. It is essential that our students be confident and thoughtful participants in their communities.

Pursuant to RCW 28A.655.075 and RCW 28A.150.210, and supported by educators, the Curriculum Advisory and Review Committee, and social studies stakeholders, I hereby adopt the 2019 Social Studies K–12 Learning Standards for Social Studies Skills, Civics, Economics, Geography, and History.

Adopted on this 31st day of July 2019.

Washington State K–12 Learning Standards for Social Studies

• Social Studies Skills • Civics • Economics • Geography • History •

Introduction

Students who receive quality instruction in social studies are engaged in learning that promotes inquiry and thoughtful civic participation. With this in mind, we are pleased to introduce OSPI’s updated Washington State K–12 Learning Standards for Social Studies. Our hope is that you will find these standards to be rigorous, thoughtful, inquiry-driven, and organized for easy accessibility.

Overview and Revisions

The Washington State K–12 Learning Standards for Social Studies (“Learning Standards”) were last revised in 2008. In the decade since the Learning Standards were released, there have been two significant curricular focuses shaping social studies work: Common Core State Standards and the College, Career, and Civic Life Framework (C3). The current version of the Learning Standards incorporates these two pedagogical models and other revisions recommended by Washington’s statewide cadre of K–12 social studies teachers.

Learning Standards Format

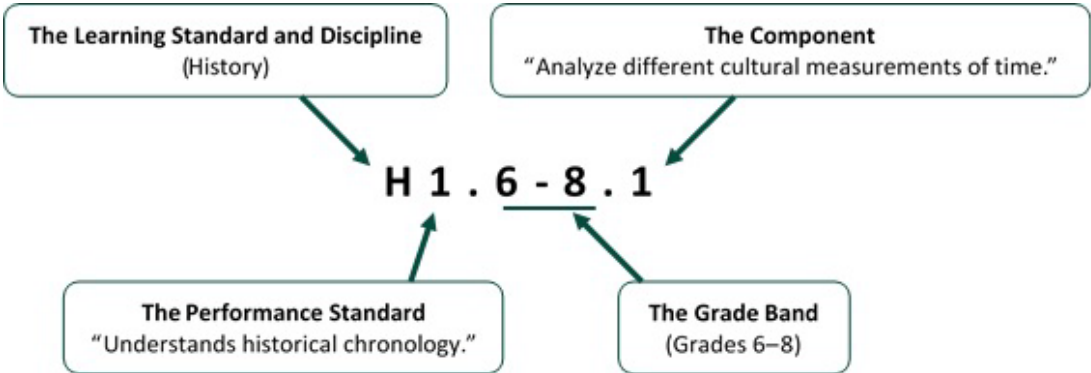

There are five sets of learning standards for social studies: one each for civics, economics, geography, and history, and one overarching set for social studies skills. Each set describes the research, reasoning, and analytical skills that students should be able to apply to these disciplines.

The Learning Standards provide a grade-by-grade sequence of concepts, regional areas, and chronological periods. Local school districts are not required to follow this exact sequence; districts can reorder them within grade bands (i.e., 3–5, 6–8, and 9–12). However, districts are encouraged to consider the mobility of their students and the advantages of following the recommended sequence to ensure that students have equitable access to all of the skills that build a strong social studies background regardless of where they reside in the state. The goal of the Learning Standards is to help teachers and local districts design the scope and sequence of their social studies programs, and to develop lessons and instruction that ensure all students have an opportunity to master the skills and standards the Learning Standards describe.

Numbering Sequence

For example, in the sequence H1.6-8.1, the letter (“H”) refers to the learning standard and discipline (history), and the first number (“1”) indicates the performance standard. The numbers following the first period (“6-8”) refer to the grade or grade band (Grades 6 through 8), and the last number (“1”) indicates the component.

Similarly, in E2.K.1, the letter E stands for the economics learning standard, the number 2 refers to the second performance standard, the letter K indicates the grade level (kindergarten), and the last number (“1”) indicates the component:

Economics Learning Standard: The student applies understanding of economic concepts and systems to analyze decision-making and the interactions between individuals, households, business, government, and societies.

Performance Standard 2: Understands the components of an economic system.

Kindergarten Component 1: Identify consumers and producers.

Incorporating C3: Enduring Understandings and Sample Questions

The “C3” (College, Career, and Civic Life) framework for compelling questions is embedded within these Learning Standards. Enduring Understandings appear beneath each performance standard, and Sample Questions are featured to the right.

C3 Element	What They Are	What They Do
Enduring Understandings	The “big ideas” that provide focus for both students and educators	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Help teachers target content for more effective instruction • Increase positive learning outcomes
Sample Questions*	Grade-appropriate, open-ended questions that encourage inquiry	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Help teachers to “unpack” the Enduring Understandings

* Sample questions are provided with scaffolding by grade level and subject.

For reference, the C3 framework can be found in The College, Career & Civic Life C3 Framework for Social Studies State Standards \(PDF\).

Emphasizing Literacy Skills

One important update to the Learning Standards is placing skills at the forefront of the standards document. The words and phrases used within the Learning Standards and the Common Core Literacy Standards for Social Studies help both students and teachers draw correlations between social studies and the Common Core State Standards, such as citing textual evidence and evaluating a source for credible information. It should be clear that social studies is an essential discipline for teaching and cementing these important literacy skills in the classroom. The Common Core Literacy Standards for Social Studies can be found at the Common Core State Standards Initiative webpage.

Connecting to Since Time Immemorial: Tribal Sovereignty in Washington State Curriculum

You will notice that the Since Time Immemorial curriculum is referenced within the Learning Standards document. RCW 28A.320.170 mandates the teaching of local tribal history in Washington's K–12 classrooms. By including specific references to Since Time Immemorial, the Learning Standards assist teachers in accessing relevant content for that work. The Since Time Immemorial curriculum can be found on OSPI's website at the webpage Since Time Immemorial: Tribal Sovereignty in Washington State.

Washington State Learning Goals

Standards for learning are for all of us: students, principals, administrators, decision-makers, community partners, teachers, and families. They help define what is important for students to know and be able to do as they progress through school. Learning standards help ensure that students acquire the skills and knowledge they need to achieve personal and academic success, promoting consistency in what is taught to students across our state—from district to district, school to school, and classroom to classroom.

Like all of the state's learning standards, the Washington State K–12 Learning Standards for Social Studies are an essential part of the framework supporting Washington's learning goals, in accordance with which, every student will be able to:

1. Read with comprehension, write effectively, and communicate successfully in a variety of ways and settings with a variety of audiences;
2. Know and apply the core concepts and principles of mathematics; social, physical, and life sciences; civics and history, including different cultures and participation in representative government; geography; arts; and health and fitness;
3. Think analytically, logically, and creatively, and to integrate technology literacy and fluency as well as different experiences and knowledge to form reasoned judgments and solve problems; and
4. Understand the importance of work and finance and how performance, effort, and decisions directly affect future career and educational opportunities.

(For full text and notes, see RCW 28A.150.210.)

Social Studies Learning Goals

Social studies education contributes to developing responsible citizens in a culturally diverse, democratic society in an interdependent world. Social studies equips students to understand their own power and their own responsibility as citizens of the world's most powerful democracy. It equips them to make sound judgments and to actively contribute to sustaining a democratic society, to good stewardship of the natural environment, and to the health and prosperity of their own communities.

What Students Should Know and Be Able to Do

Here are the capacities students will build through the social studies:

1. Knowledge of history, geography, civics, and economics is fundamental to students' ability to understand the world we live in.
2. Inquiry, interpersonal relations, and critical reasoning skills include the ability to gather, interpret, and analyze information, to engage in respectful and productive civic discourse, and to draw conclusions consistent with one's own values and beliefs.
3. Respect for the values of a diverse and democratic society motivates students to safeguard their own rights and the rights of others, and to fulfill their responsibilities as citizens in a democracy.
4. A commitment to civic participation is the result of social studies education that includes opportunities for students to understand and experience their own power to make a positive difference through service to their communities and the world.

Guiding Principles

To develop these capacities in all students, the Washington State K–12 Learning Standards for Social Studies are based on these principles:

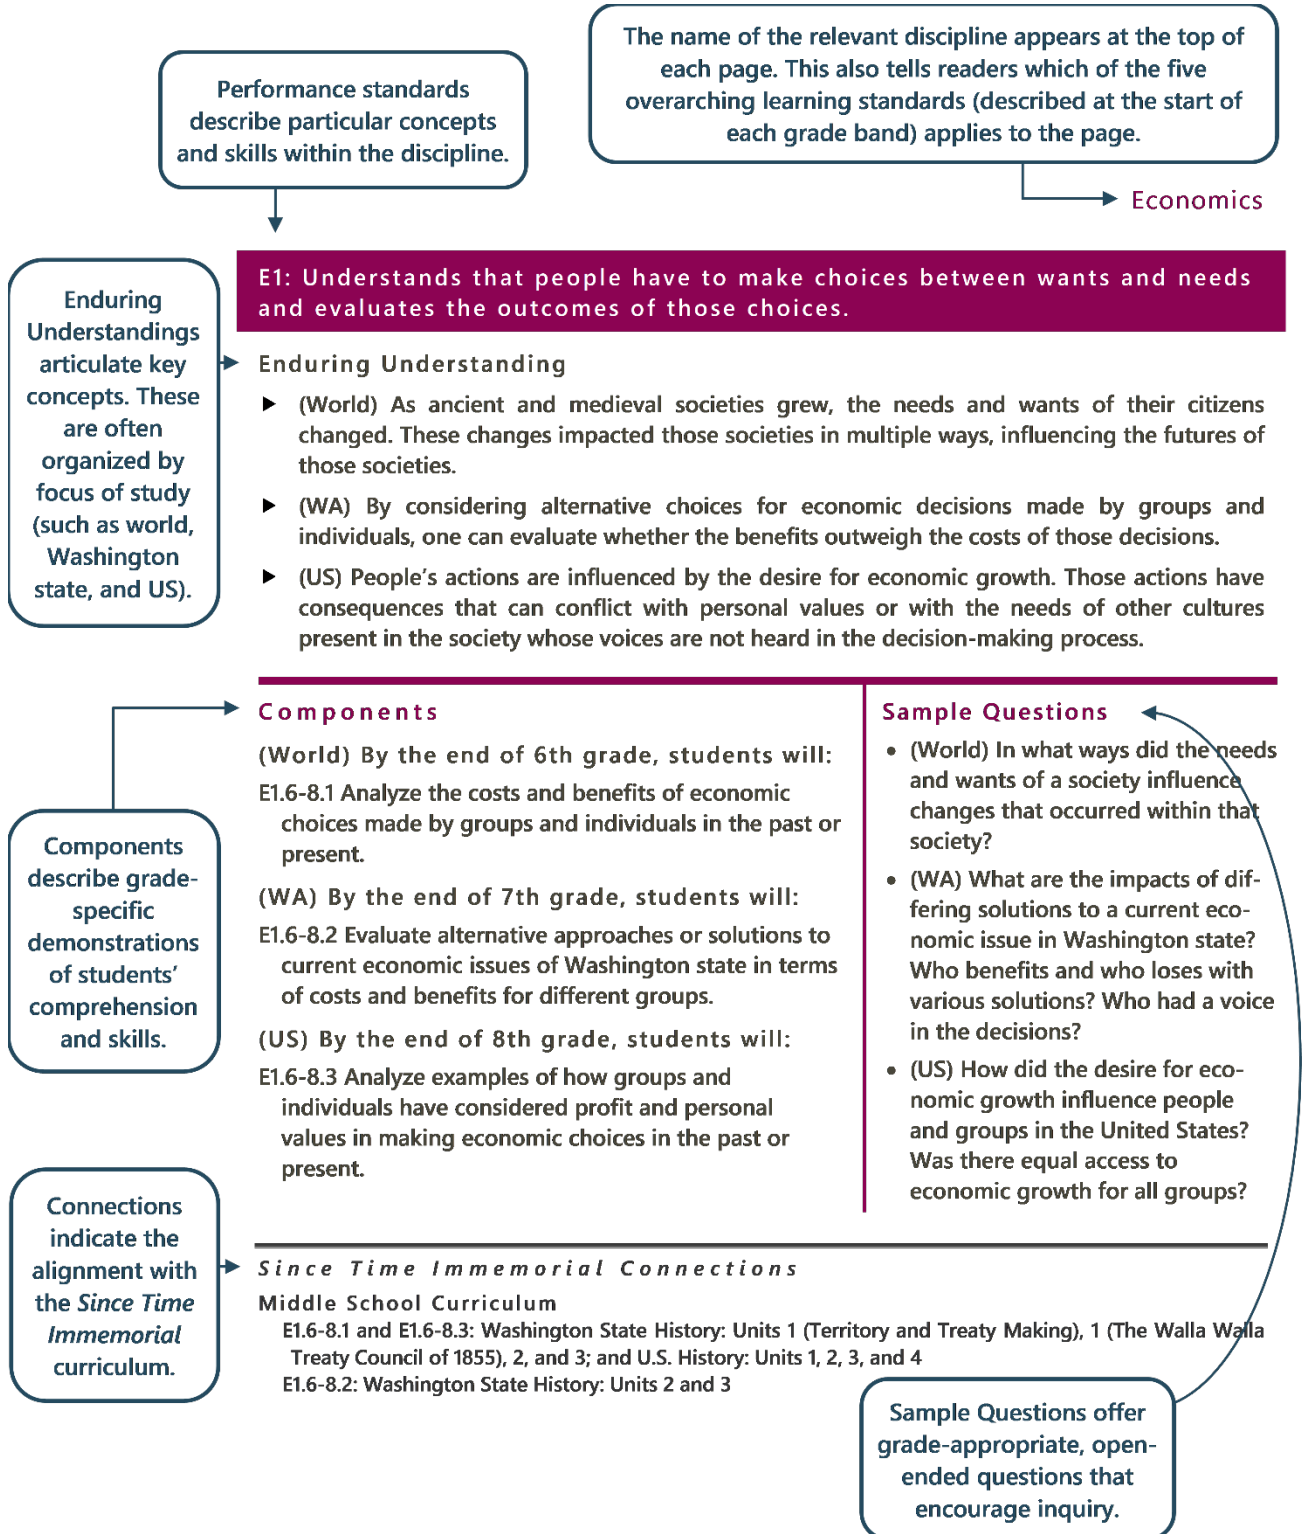

1. Focus on enduring understanding. The Learning Standards focus on the big ideas in civics, economics, geography, history, and skills that will help students understand and analyze the world. Facts are critically important—but facts should be the building blocks for understanding trends, ideas, and principles, not stand-alone bits of memorized data.
2. Promote authentic intellectual work. Students should have the opportunity to engage in disciplined inquiry, to construct their own knowledge through independent research and analysis, and to develop skills and understandings that have value beyond school.
3. Strike the right balance between depth and breadth. It would be impossible to teach students about every important topic in social studies and, at the same time, to provide students with the in-depth learning experiences they need to become skilled researchers, analysts, and practitioners of democratic values.
4. Incorporate multiple perspectives and cultural awareness. Students in our schools come from a wealth of cultural backgrounds. All students must find relevance to their own frame of reference, and respect for their group's historical perspective, in the social studies curriculum. Moreover, all students should learn to identify and analyze the perspectives of the authors they read.
5. Offer high quality state assistance to districts, while respecting local control. Many districts look to the state for help and support in creating a K–12 scope and sequence for the social studies, and in finding the best curriculum resources. Nonetheless, local districts have considerable latitude in the decisions they make on these issues.

6. Reference both contemporary and historical events, issues, and movements. Best practices in social studies embed geographic, economic, historical, and civics skills and concepts within a context. Logical chronological and regional contexts are provided in the Learning Standards to facilitate this.
7. Meet the needs of all learners. As with all the state’s academic standards, the success of the social studies Learning Standards depends on the following beliefs:
 - All students should be expected to attain a “proficient” level of achievement.
 - All students should have a carefully articulated social studies program each year, from kindergarten through 12th grade.
 - All students should receive clear, helpful, and constant feedback about their performance that helps them improve.
 - All students, without exception, should have the opportunity to attain civic, economic, geographic, and historical literacy, and the skills necessary for active and effective citizenship.

How to Navigate this Learning Standards Document

The standards are organized by grade band (K–5, 6–8, 9–12) and presented in a series of charts under the headings Social Studies Skills, Civics, Economics, Geography, and History. The following key explains the content and arrangement of information in the charts.

Elementary School Standards by Discipline

Skills

Students in elementary grades need inquiry tools to explore the world around them. It is imperative that students be shown how to interact with artifacts, primary and secondary sources, and digital media in order to approach social studies content with a critical eye. Students must be introduced to strategies for asking good questions and doing research as they make decisions based on evidence.

World History

Students in elementary grades begin to conceptualize their world and their place in it. It is important that students in the primary grades be given opportunities to explore the world through the lenses of geography, economics, civics, and history. Students given deliberate and rich world history content better understand the development of ideas and cultures over time, and ask complex questions about the progression of societal interactions and contributions.

Washington State

Students in elementary grades begin to explore the idea of community. They examine the structure and history of their families, neighborhoods, communities, and state. Elementary students use maps, timelines, and primary and secondary source materials to learn about Washington history. Students begin learning about indigenous people, migration and settlement, and the customs, treaties, and laws that shape their communities.

U.S. History

Students in elementary grades learn our country's origins. Students explore the ideas of cause and effect, the multicultural origins and development of our nation, and multiple perspectives on our nation's history. Students examine the ideas, issues, and events, from the establishment of colonies through the American Revolution. Students also begin to discover the development of politics, society, culture, and economy in the United States and strengthen their understandings of civics, geography, and economics.

Social Studies Learning Standards

Social Studies Skills: The student understands and applies reasoning skills to conduct research, deliberate, and form and evaluate positions through the processes of reading, writing, and communicating.

Civics: The student understands and applies knowledge of government, law, politics, and the nation's fundamental documents to make decisions about local, state, national, tribal, and international issues, and to demonstrate thoughtful, participatory citizenship.

Economics: The student applies understanding of economic concepts and systems to analyze decision-making and the interactions between individuals, households, business, government, and societies.

Geography: The student uses a spatial perspective to make reasoned decisions by applying the concept of location, region, and movement, and demonstrating knowledge of how geographic features and human cultures impact environment.

History: The student understands and applies knowledge of historical thinking, chronology, eras, turning points, major ideas, individuals, and themes of local, Washington state, tribal, United States, and world history in order to evaluate how history shapes the present and future.

SSS1: Uses critical reasoning skills to analyze and evaluate claims.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ Knows that there are many points of view to an argument and can share one's own position with evidence.

Components

By the end of Kindergarten, students will:

SSS1.K.1 State and clarify one's point of view.

SSS1.K.2 Evaluate the fairness of one's point of view.

SSS1.K.3 State own viewpoints on fairness and listen to the viewpoints of classmates and teacher.

SSS1.K.4 Retell a sequence of events that have happened over time.

By the end of 1st grade, students will:

SSS1.1.1 Distinguish different points of view on one event.

SSS1.1.2 Use questioning strategies.

SSS1.1.3 Retell the sequence of events that have happened over time.

By the end of 2nd grade, students will:

SSS1.2.1 Explain how multiple points of view on local issues shape decisions made within a community.

SSS1.2.2 Construct an argument with reasons to support a point of view.

SSS1.2.3 Develop an explanation about an historical outcome using correct sequence and relevant information to support a point of view.

Sample Questions

- (Kindergarten) How do wants and needs affect my decisions? Why did I make those choices? How are my choices different from the choices of my classmates, and why might that be?
- (Kindergarten) What is an important event on the calendar? What is coming up after that? How is this event connected to another?
- (Grade 1) Who should make rules?
- (Grade 1) What are some unique natural and human-made features in our community? How might the features change over time?
- (Grade 1) How do prior events affect our lives and different members of our community differently?
- (Grade 2) What rights and responsibilities do I have in and to my community? Where did those rights and responsibilities come from?
- (Grade 2) Why does the government help to support our schools and parks? How should that support be distributed?
- (Grade 2) How have geographic features and the way people live changed from long ago? Why?
- (Grade 2) How are the school experiences of your older friends and family different from the experiences you have today? Why?

Since Time Immemorial Connections

Elementary Curriculum

SSS1.K.1-4: Pathways 1 (1-4), 2 (1,3,4), and 3 (1,3,4)

SSS1.1.1-3: Pathways 1 (1-3), 2 (1-3), and 3 (1-3)

SSS1.2.1-3: Pathways 1 (1-3), 2 (1,2), and 3 (1)

SSS1: Uses critical reasoning skills to analyze and evaluate claims.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ Knows that there are many sides to an argument and can share one's own side with evidence-based research.

Components

By the end of 3rd grade, students will:

SSS1.3.1 Explain the purpose of documents and the concepts used in them.

SSS1.3.2 Evaluate if information is well accepted and relevant, or if information is clear, specific, and detailed.

By the end of 4th grade, students will:

SSS1.4.1 Identify the concepts used in documents and sources.

SSS1.4.2 Evaluate primary and secondary sources.

By the end of 5th grade, students will:

SSS1.5.1 Evaluate the relevance of facts used in forming a position on an issue or event.

SSS1.5.2 Construct arguments using claims and evidence from multiple sources.

SSS1.5.3 Construct explanations using reasoning, correct sequence, examples, and details with relevant information and data.

Sample Questions

- (Grade 3) Why is it important to vote? What information do you need to have to make you an informed voter?
- (Grade 3) Why might different sources have different information about the same historical events or topics?
- (Grade 4) How do the laws in our communities help or hurt different groups of people?
- (Grade 4) How do artifacts, primary sources, and secondary sources tell the stories of our state?
- (Grade 5) Looking at multiple sources, how do the ideals stated in the Declaration of Independence and the United States Constitution still apply today? Do they apply equally to everyone?
- (Grade 5) What are the positive, negative, and neutral results of economic decisions made during the colonial period?
- (Grade 5) Looking at different maps, how did the movement of the colonists to the Americas force the movement of tribal people from their land?

Since Time Immemorial Connections

Elementary Curriculum

SSS1.3.2: Pathways 1, 2, and 3

SSS1.4.1-2: Washington State History: Units 1, 2, and 3

SSS1.5.1-3: U.S. History: Units 1, 2, and 3

SSS2: Uses inquiry-based research.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ Knows how to ask quality questions and find appropriate materials to find answers to those questions.

Components

By the end of Kindergarten, students will:

SSS2.K.1 Demonstrate how to ask questions about the classroom and school community.

By the end of 1st grade, students will:

SSS2.1.1 Explain how questions are used to find out information.

SSS2.1.2 Use texts, audio, visuals, and other evidence to identify the main ideas or key details to study life outside of school.

SSS2.1.3 Explain what a compelling question is and why it is important.

By the end of 2nd grade, students will:

SSS2.2.1 Identify disciplinary ideas associated with a compelling question.

SSS2.2.2 Identify facts and concepts associated with a supporting question.

SSS2.2.3 Make connections between supporting questions and compelling questions.

SSS2.2.4 Ask and answer questions about claims or positions.

SSS2.2.5 Ask and answer questions about explanations.

Sample Questions

- (Kindergarten) How can I contribute to my school community?
- (Kindergarten) What is the difference between a want and a need?
- (Grade 1) What are the school rules?
- (Grade 1) What places in my school should be included on my school map?
- (Grade 1) What are the reasons people move to different places?
- (Grade 2) How does scarcity impact my decision-making?
- (Grade 2) How have earthquakes and other natural disasters affected the state of Washington?
- (Grade 2) Who are the people in my community who have made a positive difference?

Since Time Immemorial Connections

Elementary Curriculum

SSS2.K.1: Pathways 1 (1), 2 (1), and 3 (1)

SSS2.1.1-3: Pathways 1 (2), 2 (2), and 3 (2)

SSS2.2.1-5: Pathways 1 (1,2,4,5), 2 (1,2,4,5), and 3 (1,2,4,5)

SSS2: Uses inquiry-based research.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ Knows how to ask a variety of quality questions and find appropriate materials to find the answers to those questions.

Components

By the end of 3rd grade, students will:

SSS2.3.1 Use a graphic organizer to organize main ideas and supporting details from a variety of print and non-print texts.

SSS2.3.2 Explain how and why compelling questions are important to others (e.g., peers, adults).

By the end of 4th grade, students will:

SSS2.4.1 Identify disciplinary concepts and ideas associated with a compelling question or supporting questions that are open to different interpretations.

SSS2.4.2 Identify the main ideas from a variety of print and non-print texts.

By the end of 5th grade, students will:

SSS2.5.1 Explain how supporting questions help answer compelling questions in an inquiry.

SSS2.5.2 Determine the kinds of sources that will be helpful in answering compelling and supporting questions, taking into consideration the different opinions people have about how to answer the questions.

SSS2.5.3 Critique arguments.

SSS2.5.4 Critique explanations.

Sample Questions

- (Grade 3) Why is it important to understand how and why trade impacts different cultural groups?
- (Grade 3) Using a Venn diagram, what are the similarities and differences of how tribal people interact with their environment?
- (Grade 4) What are the core virtues found in the Washington state constitution and foundational documents?
- (Grade 4) How can artifacts and primary sources, including oral and written language, help us understand and share historical events?
- (Grade 5) What sources would you need to explain how the Triangle Trade supported colonial agricultural production?
- (Grade 5) How well do maps in your classroom show how agricultural practices of the thirteen colonies forced the movement of African people as slave labor?

Since Time Immemorial Connections

Elementary Curriculum

SSS2.3.1: Pathways 1, 2 and 3

SSS2.4.2: Washington State History: Units 1, 2, and 3

SSS2.5.2-4: U.S. History: Units 1, 2, and 3

SSS3: Deliberates public issues.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ Knows that there are many ideas, issues, and conflicts going on in the world around one and can listen in order to understand the different points of view and use one's own voice to enact change.

Components

By the end of Kindergarten, students will:

SSS3.K.1 Share their own viewpoints and give respectful attention to the viewpoints of others.

By the end of 1st grade, students will:

SSS3.1.1 Engage in discussions to learn about different points of view on issues that impact their communities.

By the end of 2nd grade, students will:

SSS3.2.1 Identify and explain a range of local, regional, and global problems, and some ways in which people are trying to address them.

SSS3.2.2 Identify ways to take action to help address local, regional, and global problems.

SSS3.2.3 Use listening, consensus-building, and voting procedures to decide on and take action in their classrooms.

Sample Questions

- (Kindergarten) What does it mean to contribute to a classroom community?
- (Kindergarten) Why is it important to have common rules for playground games?
- (Grade 1) What are the resources that families use to get what they want and need?
- (Grade 1) What is the difference between a public place and a private place?
- (Grade 1) What factors might influence different opinions about what is good for my school and community?
- (Grade 2) How are the rules of my school the same and different as the rules in my community?
- (Grade 2) When a city or town grows, what changes occur in the environment?

Since Time Immemorial Connections

Elementary Curriculum

SSS3.K.1: Pathways 1 (1), 2 (1), and 3 (1)

SSS3.1.1: Pathways 1 (1), 2 (1), and 3 (1)

SSS3.2.1-3: Pathways 1, 2 (1,2), and 3

SSS3: Deliberates public issues.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ Knows that there are many ideas, issues, and conflicts going on in the world around one and can listen in order to understand the different points of view and use one's own voice to enact change.

Components

By the end of 3rd grade, students will:

SSS3.3.1 Engage others in discussions that attempt to clarify and address multiple viewpoints on public issues based on key ideals.

By the end of 4th grade, students will:

SSS3.4.1 Draw on disciplinary concepts to explain the challenges people have faced and opportunities they have created in addressing local, regional, and global problems at various times and places.

By the end of 5th grade, students will:

SSS3.5.1 Explain different strategies and approaches students and others could take in working alone and together to address local, regional, and global problems, and predict possible results of their actions.

SSS3.5.2 Use a range of deliberative and democratic procedures to make decisions about and act on civic problems in their classrooms and schools.

Sample Questions

- (Grade 3) What different traditions, beliefs, and celebrations have been brought from countries around the world to the United States? How have some become mainstream and others marginalized?
- (Grade 3) How is my timeline different from another classmate's timeline?
- (Grade 4) What are the economic conditions that would cause people to relocate to or within Washington state?
- (Grade 4) How did the Stevens Treaties with tribal people connect to the Boldt decision and current fishing rights?
- (Grade 5) What is the impact of settlement on the geography of the Americas? Is there a need to reverse these impacts? If so, what can you do about it?
- (Grade 5) How can you influence how different historical events are viewed and honored by the public?

Since Time Immemorial Connections

Elementary Curriculum

SSS3.3.1: Pathways 1, 2, and 3

SSS3.4.1: Washington State History: Units 1, 2, and 3

SSS3.5.1: U.S. History: Units 1, 2, and 3

SSS4: Creates a product that uses social studies content to support a claim and presents the product in a manner that meaningfully communicates with a key audience.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ Knows that there are many ways to share ideas and can evaluate evidence and determine best tools to express one's own knowledge and understanding.

Components

By the end of Kindergarten, students will:

SSS4.K.1 Use a graphic organizer to explain the beginning, middle, and end of a story.

By the end of 1st grade, students will:

SSS4.1.1 Determine the kinds of sources that will be helpful in answering compelling and supporting questions.

By the end of 2nd grade, students will:

SSS4.2.1 Gather relevant information from one or two sources while using the origin and structure to guide the selection.

SSS4.2.2 Evaluate a source by distinguishing between fact and opinion.

SSS4.2.3 Present a summary of an argument using print, oral, and digital technologies.

Sample Questions

- (Kindergarten) Where does my food grow and how does it get to me?
- (Kindergarten) What are some important events in your life?
- (Grade 1) What are different ways people can earn money?
- (Grade 1) How are goods brought in from different places?
- (Grade 1) How has my community's history contributed to local celebrations and customs?
- (Grade 2) How does my contribution make my neighborhood community a better place?
- (Grade 2) What goods and services are produced locally and how do they support our community?
- (Grade 2) What kind of occupations are in my region and why are they located there?

Since Time Immemorial Connections

Elementary Curriculum

SSS4.K.1: Pathways 1, 2 (1), and 3

SSS4.1.1: Pathways 1, 2, and 3

SSS4.2.1-3: Pathways 1 (1), 2 (1,3), and 3

SSS4: Creates a product that uses social studies content to support a claim and presents the product in a manner that meaningfully communicates with a key audience.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ Knows that there are many ways to share ideas and can evaluate evidence and determine best tools to express one's own knowledge and understanding.

Components

By the end of 3rd grade, students will:

- SSS4.3.1 Draw conclusions using clear, specific, and accurate examples in a paper or presentation.
- SSS4.3.2 Give clear attribution to sources within writing or presentations.
- SSS4.3.3 Use distinctions between fact and opinion to determine the credibility of multiple sources.

By the end of 4th grade, students will:

- SSS4.4.1 Draw clear, well-reasoned conclusions with explanations that are supported by print and non-print texts in a paper or presentation.
- SSS4.4.2 Prepare a works cited page that connects with in-text attributions that are aligned to a style of citation (i.e. MLA, APA, etc.).
- SSS4.4.3 Identify relevant evidence that draws information from multiple sources in response to compelling questions.

By the end of 5th grade, students will:

- SSS4.5.1 Research multiple perspectives to take a position on a public or historical issue in a paper or presentation.
- SSS4.5.2 Prepare a works cited page that connects with in-text attributions that are aligned to a style of citation (i.e. MLA, APA, etc.) with more publication detail.
- SSS4.5.3 Use evidence to develop claims in response to compelling questions.
- SSS4.5.4 Present a summary of arguments and explanations to others outside the classroom using print and oral technologies (e.g., posters, essays, letters, debates, speeches, and reports) and digital technologies (e.g., Internet, social media, and digital documentary).

Sample Questions

- (Grade 3) Why do we need different rules at home, at school, and in the community?
- (Grade 3) How does culture influence the choices people make?
- (Grade 4) How do new laws and rules affect various groups? (Examples may include tribes, religious groups, women, African Americans, etc.)
- (Grade 4) What resources existed to support the region's economy?
- (Grade 5) What does it mean to be a responsible citizen of the United States or a tribe?

By the end of 2nd grade, students will:

E4.2.1 Clarify that there are factors that lead to trading with one group over another (e.g. seasons, prices, distance, etc.)

Sample Questions

- (Kindergarten) How do seasons affect the goods produced in our region?
- (Kindergarten) What goods are produced in our region?
- (Grade 1) Why do we buy and sell goods that are produced in our community?
- (Grade 2) How do we choose between two similar goods from different regions?
- (Grade 2) How do people acquire what they need?
- (Grade 2) What are examples of production, distribution, and consumption of goods and services in the community?

E4.K.1: Pathways 1 (1), 2 (1), and 3 (1)

E4.1.1-3: Pathways 1, 2 (1,2), and 3

E4.2.1: Pathways 1, 2, and 3

E4: Understands the economic issues and problems that all societies face.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ Knows that when people specialize and trade, it leads to increased economic interdependence, which is a fundamental step in understanding how the world economy functions.

Components

By the end of 3rd grade, students will:

- E4.3.1 Identify the positive and negative impacts of trade among and between cultural groups.
- E4.3.2 Explain how trade leads to increasing economic interdependence among cultural groups.
- E4.3.3 Explain the effects of increasing economic interdependence on different groups within participating cultural groups.

By the end of 4th Grade, students will:

- E4.4.1 Explain how geography, natural resources, climate, and available labor contributed to the exploitation of resources in the Pacific Northwest.
- E4.4.2 Explain the economic issues that different communities within the Pacific Northwest faced.
- E4.4.3 Explain how trade led to increasing economic interdependence among groups within the Pacific Northwest.

By the end of 5th Grade, students will:

- E4.5.1 Explain how trade leads to increasing economic interdependence among nations.
- E4.5.2 Explain the effects of increasing economic interdependence on different groups within participating nations.
- E4.5.3 Describe ways people can increase productivity by using improved capital goods and improving their human capital.

Sample Questions

- (Grade 3) How does culture impact trade decisions?
- (Grade 3) What are the costs and benefits of interdependence among nations?
- (Grade 4) How are resources managed by tribal and non-tribal people of the Pacific Northwest?
- (Grade 4) What Pacific Northwest resources are traded?
- (Grade 5) What types of problems did the United States face that required interdependence with other nations?
- (Grade 5) How did dependence on other nations affect groups of people within the United States?

G1: Understands the physical characteristics, cultural characteristics, and location of places, regions, and spatial patterns on the Earth’s surface.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ Knows that the use of tools (e.g., maps, globes, charts, graphs) is important to understanding the world around us. Different cultures may use different tools, and have different names and different perspectives, when looking at the world around us.

Components

By the end of Kindergarten, students will:

G1.K.1 Recognize one’s classroom and school as distinct environments based on physical characteristics and expectations.

By the end of 1st grade, students will:

G1.1.1 Be able to identify local geographic locations and bodies of water.

G1.1.2 Be able to identify large continental land masses on a map or globe.

G1.1.3 Be able to identify major bodies of water on a map or globe.

By the end of 2nd grade, students will:

G1.2.1 Apply basic mapping elements to read and construct maps of their communities and the world.

G1.2.2 Use maps, globes, and other simple geographic models to identify cultural and environmental characteristics of places.

G1.2.3 Use maps, graphs, photographs and other representations to describe places and the relationships and interactions that shape them.

G1.2.4 Describe the connections between the physical environment of a place and the economic activities found there.

G1.2.5 Identify ways that a major catastrophe may affect people living in a place.

Sample Questions

- (Kindergarten) How is my classroom arranged to help me?
- (Kindergarten) What symbols does my school use to guide me to different locations?
- (Grade 1) What major bodies of water are near me?
- (Grade 1) What are the names of different places around me?
- (Grade 1) What are the different native tribes that are near my community?
- (Grade 1) How does the map of my school help people?
- (Grade 2) How has the geography of my city, town, or community changed over time?
- (Grade 2) How have geographic features and the way people live changed from long ago?
- (Grade 2) How do the tools on a map help me understand how to read it?

G1: Understands the physical characteristics, cultural characteristics, and location of places, regions, and spatial patterns on the Earth’s surface.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ Knows that the use of tools (e.g., maps, globes, charts, graphs) is important to understanding the world around us. Different cultures may use different tools, and have different names and different perspectives, when looking at the world around us.

Components

By the end of 3rd grade, students will:

G1.3.1 Examine and use maps and globes to understand the regions of North America in the past and present.

G1.3.2 Investigate the physical, political, and cultural characteristics of places, regions, and people in North America, including the location of the fifty states within the regions of the United States.

By the end of 4th grade, students will:

G1.4.1 Construct and use maps to explain the movement of peoples.

G1.4.2 Investigate the physical, political, and cultural characteristics of places, regions, and people in the Pacific Northwest, including the difference between cities, states, and countries.

By the end of 5th grade, students will:

G1.5.1 Construct and use maps to show and analyze information about European settlement in the United States.

G1.5.2 Describe the physical and cultural characteristics of the thirteen colonies.

G1.5.3 Construct maps and other graphic representations of both familiar and unfamiliar places.

G1.5.4 Use maps, satellite images, photographs, and other representations to explain relationships between the locations of places and regions and their environmental characteristics.

Sample Questions

- (Grade 3) What impact did geographic location have on tribal people and other societies?
- (Grade 3) How does the physical geography, including landforms and climate influence where people live?
- (Grade 4) What impact does the relationship between physical geography and cultural characteristics have on life in the Pacific Northwest?
- (Grade 4) How did the tribal people that Lewis and Clark met on their expedition influence their mode of travel through different geographic regions?
- (Grade 5) What impact did geography (landforms, climate, and natural resources) have on the settlements in the Americas?
- (Grade 5) What were the cultural characteristics of the people in the thirteen colonies?

G2: Understands human interaction with the environment.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ Knows that the human-environment interactions are essential aspects of human life in all societies and that they occur at local-to-regional scale. Human actions modify the physical environment, and, in turn, the physical environment limits or promotes human activities.

Components

By the end of Kindergarten, students will:

- G2.K.1 Explain how weather, climate, and other environmental characteristics affect people’s lives in a place or region.
- G2.K.2 Identify natural events or physical features such as air, water, land, or wind.
- G2.K.3 Describe how environment affects one’s own activities.

By the end of 1st grade, students will:

- G2.1.1 Explain the way family life is shaped by the environment.
- G2.1.2 Discuss why families make decisions to move to new geographic locations.
- G2.1.3 Identify human events and human-made features.
- G2.1.4 Identify natural events or physical features.

By the end of 2nd grade, students will:

- G2.2.1 Identify some common and unique cultural and environmental characteristics of specific places.
- G2.2.2 Explain ways people depend on, adapt to, and modify the environment to meet basic needs.
- G2.2.3 Compare how physical geography affects Northwest tribal culture and where tribes live and trade.
- G2.2.4 Distinguish human activities and human-made features from natural events or physical features.
- G2.2.5 Recognize ways people depend on, adapt to, and modify the environment to meet basic needs.

Sample Questions

- (Kindergarten) Where does your food grow?
- (Kindergarten) What can you do to change your geographic surroundings?
- (Kindergarten) How does climate or geographic location affect the clothing you wear?
- (Grade 1) What impact does location have on how a family lives and works?
- (Grade 1) How can geographical features determine where a family lives, moves, and works?
- (Grade 1) What are some of the unique natural and human-made features in our community?
- (Grade 2) What is the difference between an urban, suburban, and rural place?
- (Grade 2) Describe how the environment can affect your or other people's activities.
- (Grade 2) What are examples of materials humans use to build shelters?

- G2.2.1-5: Pathways 1 (1,3,4), 2 (1-5), and 3 (1-5)

G2: Understands human interaction with the environment.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ Knows that the human-environment interactions are essential aspects of human life in all societies and they occur at local-to-regional scale. Human actions modify the physical environment and, in turn, the physical environment limits or promotes human activities.

Components

By the end of 3rd grade, students will:

- G2.3.1 Explain how the environment affects cultural groups and how groups affect the environment.
- G2.3.2 Examine the cultural universals of place, time, family life, economics, communication, arts, recreation, food, clothing, shelter, transportation, government, and education.
- G2.3.3 Compare the traditions, beliefs, and values of cultural groups in North America.

By the end of 4th grade, students will:

- G2.4.1 Draw a conclusion that the geographic features of the Pacific Northwest have influenced the movement of people.
- G2.4.2 Explain how the lands that the tribes were forced to move to, changed their interactions with the environment.

By the end of 5th grade, students will:

- G2.5.1 Compare and analyze the impact of the European colonists' movement to the Americas on the land of Native American peoples.
- G2.5.2 Explain how culture influences the way people modify and adapt to their environments.
- G2.5.3 Explain how the cultural and environmental characteristics of places change over time.
- G2.5.4 Describe how environmental and cultural characteristics influence population distribution in specific places or regions.
- G2.5.5 Explain how cultural and environmental characteristics affect the distribution and movement of people, goods, and ideas.
- G2.5.6 Explain how human settlements and movements relate to the locations and use of various natural resources.

Sample Questions

- (Grade 3) What impact does geographic location have on societies?
- (Grade 3) What were the ways that people made a living in different communities? How might the environment impact the jobs available for people?
- (Grade 4) What are the geographic features of your local tribe's reservation or tribal land, and how is it similar or different from their historic territory? Why was that land selected and by whom?
- (Grade 4) What was the importance of major transportation routes, including rivers, in the exploration and settlement of the Western United States?
- (Grade 5) How did the movement of the colonists to the Americas force the movement of tribal people from their land?
- (Grade 5) How did the agricultural practices of the thirteen colonies force the movement of African people as slave labor?

Components

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ Knows that people, products, and ideas can move, connecting local and global communities to each other.

Components

By the end of 3rd grade, students will:

G3.3.1 Explain that learning about the geography of North America helps us understand cultures from around the world.

By the end of 4th grade, students will:

G3.4.1 Describe how the geography and natural resources of the Oregon Territory created trade with other countries.

By the end of 5th grade, students will:

G3.5.1 Describe the impact of European settlements on Native American tribes.

G3.5.2 Determine the impact of trade on African peoples.

G3.5.3 Explain why environmental characteristics vary among different world regions.

G3.5.4 Describe how the spatial patterns of economic activities in a place change over time because of interactions with nearby and distant places.

G3.5.5 Determine how natural and human-made catastrophic events in one place affect people living in other places.

Sample Questions

- (Grade 3) What different traditions, beliefs, and celebrations have been brought from countries around the world to the United States?
- (Grade 4) What natural resources did the Oregon and Washington Territory have that other countries wanted to purchase?
- (Grade 4) What diseases were spread that devastated tribal nations?
- (Grade 5) What impact did geography have on where Europeans settled in the Americas?
- (Grade 5) How did the growth in trade of cotton and tobacco impact the slave population of the United States?

H1: Understands historical chronology.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ Knows that the study of chronology is necessary for understanding cultures, global connections, and historical events.

Components

By the end of 3rd grade, students will:

H1.3.1 Create timelines to show events connected to their cultural identities.

H1.3.2 Compare the similarities and differences between their own cultural timelines and those of others.

H1.3.3 Use timelines to explain the context of history.

By the end of 4th grade, students will:

H1.4.1 Create timelines to show how historical events are organized into time periods and eras.

H1.4.2 Examine how the following themes and developments help to define eras in Washington state history since time immemorial to 1889:

- Growth of northwest coastal, Puget Sound, and plateau tribes prior to treaties (time immemorial to present)
- Maritime and overland exploration, encounter, and trade (1774-1849)
- Immigration and settlement (1811-1889)
- Territory and treaty-making (1854-1889)

H1.4.3 Explore and construct an explanation of how the growth of major tribes helps to define the history of the Pacific Northwest prior to 1889.

By the end of 5th grade, students will:

H1.5.1 Create timelines to demonstrate historical events caused by other important events.

H1.5.2 Demonstrate how the following themes and developments help to define eras in U.S. history from time immemorial to 1791:

- Development of tribal nations in North America (time immemorial to 1791)
- Encounter, colonization, and devastation (1492-1763)
- Revolution and constitution (1763-1791)

Sample Questions

- (Grade 3) How do timelines help us understand history?
- (Grade 3) How is my timeline different from another classmate's timeline?
- (Grade 4) What is an era?
- (Grade 4) How can artifacts and primary sources, including oral and written language, help us understand and share historical events?
- (Grade 5) What are the purposes of a timeline?
- (Grade 5) What makes an event important enough to put on a timeline? Who decides what is important?

- ▶ Can use the historical inquiry process that is based in materials, including primary source documents, to study and analyze the past and understand current issues and events.

Components

By the end of 3rd grade, students will:

- H4.3.1 Recognize and explain how significant cultural events have implications for current decisions.
- H4.3.2 Use evidence to develop a claim about our past community's history.
- H4.3.3 Summarize how different kinds of historical sources are used to explain events in the past.

By the end of 4th grade, students will:

- H4.4.1 Recognize and explain significant historical events in Washington state that have implications for current decisions.
- H4.4.2 Use evidence to develop a claim about Washington state, and tribal nations and groups.
- H4.4.3 Compare information provided by different historical sources.
- H4.4.4 Generate questions about multiple historical sources and their relationships to particular historical events and developments.

By the end of 5th grade, students will:

- H4.5.1 Recognize and explain that significant historical events in the United States have implications for current decisions and influence the future.
- H4.5.2 Describe the purpose of documents and the concepts used in them.
- H4.5.3 Summarize the central claim in a secondary work of history.
- H4.5.4 Use evidence to develop a claim about colonial America.
- H4.5.5 Infer the intended audience and purpose of a historical source from information within the source itself.
- H4.5.6 Use information about a historical source, including the maker, date, place of origin, intended audience, and purpose, to judge the extent to which the source is useful for studying a particular topic.

Sample Questions

- (Grade 3) What is the significance of one cultural tradition in my family or my community?
- (Grade 3) What evidence can we use to prove a claim about our community's history?
- (Grade 4) How did the Stevens Treaties with tribal people connect to the Boldt decision and current fishing rights?
- (Grade 4) How does learning about the Pig War teach us about the causes of contemporary conflict?
- (Grade 5) Why should historians always use more than one document when asking historical questions? Why are different viewpoints important?

Middle School Standards by Discipline

Skills (6th–8th Grade)

Through research, students hone their ability to gather and evaluate information and then use that information as evidence in a wide range of endeavors. The ELA/Literacy Common Core Standards emphasize these skills as key to an integrated model of literacy. The C3 Framework and the Indicators in Dimension 3 apply this model to social studies inquiry (Swan et al., p.56). In our rapidly-changing world, where ideas, information, and opinions are but mouse-clicks away, students more than ever need to learn how to keep learning in order to cultivate sound understandings. As a result, they need a deep well of powerful and disciplined strategies for answering their questions and for gathering data that can be evaluated and transformed into evidence for justifiable decisions. (Swan et al., p. 89)

World History (6th Grade)

The study of world civilizations allows students to deepen their understanding of the Earth and its peoples through the study of history, geography, politics, culture, and economic systems. Students develop higher levels of critical thinking by considering why ancient civilizations developed where and when they did and why they declined. While it would be impossible to study every world culture in depth, it is important for students to understand that indigenous people developed societies all over the world, concurrent to the rise of traditionally recognized early civilizations.

Additionally, through the study of world history, students should evaluate the enduring contributions of ancient and medieval global societies, recognizing the links between the historical and contemporary worlds made possible through the interconnection of peoples and the Age of Exploration.

Washington State (7th Grade)

Students examine Washington state, from native and European contact to the present. The study of Washington state includes an examination of the state constitution and key treaties, including popular and tribal sovereignty issues. Through additional study of migration, differing cultural experiences, and human interactions with the environment, students will develop enduring understandings of the core concepts and ideas in civics, economics, geography, and history.

U.S. History (8th Grade)

In U.S. History, students develop a new, more abstract level of understanding of social studies concepts. The recommended context for developing this understanding is U.S. history and government, 1776 to 1877. Students explore the ideas, issues, and events from the framing of the Constitution through Reconstruction, although beginning before this context or extending beyond it is up to the discretion of each district. After reviewing the founding of the United States and the Constitution, students explore the development of politics, society, culture, and economy in the United States to deepen conceptual understandings in civics, geography, and economics.

These standards can be addressed over multiple grade levels (6–8) at the discretion of the district.

Social Studies Learning Standards

Social Studies Skills: The student understands and applies reasoning skills to conduct research, deliberate, and form and evaluate positions through the processes of reading, writing, and communicating.

Civics: The student understands and applies knowledge of government, law, politics, and the nation’s fundamental documents to make decisions about local, state, national, tribal, and international issues, and to demonstrate thoughtful, participatory citizenship.

Economics: The student applies understanding of economic concepts and systems to analyze decision-making and the interactions between individuals, households, business, government, and societies.

Geography: The student uses a spatial perspective to make reasoned decisions by applying the concept of location, region, and movement, and demonstrating knowledge of how geographic features and human cultures impact environment.

History: The student understands and applies knowledge of historical thinking, chronology, eras, turning points, major ideas, individuals, and themes of local, Washington state, tribal, United States, and world history in order to evaluate how history shapes the present and future.

SSS1: Uses critical reasoning skills to analyze and evaluate claims.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ Social studies skills include the ability to consider multiple viewpoints and weigh the validity of those viewpoints by applying an analysis of evidence.

Components

By the end of 8th grade, students will:

SSS1.6-8.1 Analyze positions and evidence supporting an issue or an event.

SSS1.6-8.2 Evaluate the logic of reasons for a position on an issue or event.

Sample Questions

- Why is it important to keep asking questions when conducting research?
- How do the answers to questions help lead to additional questions?
- What kinds of sources are needed to adequately answer questions, state claims, and provide evidence?
- How can you decide whether or not a source has credibility?
- How do you know that you have accumulated information that represents a range of multiple viewpoints?
- How can we interpret the impact of an historical event? From whose perspective is the event presented?

Middle School Curriculum

SSS1.6-8.1 and SSS1.6-8.2: Washington State History: Units 1 (Territory and Treaty Making), 1 (The Walla Walla Treaty Council of 1855), 2, and 3; and U.S. History: Units 1, 2, 3, and 4

SSS2: Uses inquiry-based research.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ The ability to develop questions is the foundation of a rich social studies experience. Then the ability to answer those questions by planning how to find reliable and credible answers to the questions is the next step to initiate an inquiry.

Components

By the end of 8th grade, students will:

SSS2.6-8.1 Create and use research questions to guide inquiry on an issue or event.

SSS2.6-8.2 Evaluate the breadth, reliability, and credibility of primary and secondary sources to determine the need for new or additional information when researching an issue or event.

Sample Questions

- What things are considered when it comes to making decisions?
- How can we recognize if a claim is clear, precise, and adequately supported?
- How can we strengthen our arguments by effectively analyzing both claims and counterclaims?
- What advantages are there to considering multiple perspectives when learning about an issue or event?
- Explain the characteristics and causes of local, regional and global problems in multiple contexts.
- How do historians decide what goes on a timeline of history? Are the perspectives of all participants in an event represented? Who has written the history?

SSS2.6-8.2: WA State History: Unit 1 (Territory and Treaty Making)

SSS3: Deliberates public issues.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ Social studies skills include the ability to debate an issue using civil discourse backed with a range of credible sources.

Components

By the end of 8th grade, students will:

SSS3.6-8.1 Engage in discussion, analyzing multiple viewpoints on public issues.

Sample Questions

- How do differing viewpoints contribute to the democratic process and effective policy decisions?
- How can we create a culture of civic discourse?
- How has civic debate and our knowledge of the past served to inform contemporary policies?
- How should the rights and responsibilities of individuals be balanced with those of the larger society?
- How do treaties affect the economic interaction between federal, state, and tribal governments?
- How did the way societies dealt with a shortage of resources inform us about the importance of sustainability?
- Are there groups whose viewpoints don't get heard or get dismissed?

SSS4: Creates a product that uses social studies content to support a thesis, and presents the product in an appropriate manner to a meaningful audience.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ Argumentation involves the ability to understand the source-to-evidence relationship, and use evidence to justify a claim and counterclaim.

Components

By the end of 8th grade, students will:

SSS4.6-8.1 Analyze multiple factors, make generalizations, and interpret sources to formulate a thesis in a paper or presentation, while observing rules related to plagiarism and copyright.

SSS4.6-8.2 Use appropriate format to cite sources within an essay, presentation, and reference page.

Sample Questions

- Why is it essential to have multiple sources of evidence?
- How do we create products that can persuade an audience and effectively advocate for a position?
- How can you show the relationship between the evidence and the claim you are trying to support?
- What are the dangers of not checking sources?
- Why do reasoned arguments demand intellectual integrity and avoid plagiarism?

C1: Understands key ideals and principles of the United States, including those in the Declaration of Independence, Constitution, and other foundational documents.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ (World) Foundational documents of the United States were built upon the work of earlier civilizations.
- ▶ (WA) There are key ideals established in state and tribal constitutions that determine the functioning of government.
- ▶ (US) Governing is a process that evolves over time, and the effort to build a “more perfect Union” is ongoing.

Components

(World) By the end of 6th grade, students will:

C1.6-8.1 Explain how early works such as the Code of Justinian or the Magna Carta contributed to foundational documents of the United States.

(WA) By the end of 7th grade, students will:

C1.6-8.2 Explain the structure of and key ideals set forth in fundamental documents, including the Washington state constitution and tribal treaties with the United States government.

(US) By the end of 8th grade, students will:

C1.6-8.3 Explain key ideals and principles outlined in the Declaration of Independence, including life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; the U.S. Constitution, including the rule of law, separation of powers, representative government, and popular sovereignty; and, the Bill of Rights, including due process and freedom of expression.

C1.6-8.4 Evaluate efforts to reduce discrepancies between key ideals and reality in the United States.

Sample Questions

- (World) Where did the principles of U.S. democracy come from?
- (WA) How are the ideals of representative government supported in the Washington state constitution?
- (US) What are the origins of the key ideals of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution and their continuing influences on the nation?

C1.6-8.3 to C1.6-8.4: U.S. History: Unit 1

C1.6-8.4: U.S. History: Units 2, 3, and 4

C2: Understands the purposes, organization, and function of governments, laws, and political systems.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ (World) Civilizations from the earliest times have some form of governmental organization that creates order in a society.
- ▶ (WA) Government in Washington state has multiple levels and branches, with limits and responsibilities that impact the operation of government.
- ▶ (US) The three branches of government of the U.S. provide for a system of checks and balances that defines specific responsibilities and limits on the powers of those branches.

Components

(World) By the end of 6th grade, students will:

C2.6-8. 1 Explain a variety of forms of government from the past or present.

(WA) By the end of 7th grade, students will:

C2.6-8. 2 Distinguish the structure, organization, powers, and limits of government at the local, state, and tribal levels.

(US) By the end of 8th grade, students will:

C2.6-8. 3 Analyze the structure and powers of government at the national level.

C2.6-8. 4 Use knowledge of the function of government to analyze and address a political issue.

C2.6-8. 5 Evaluate the effectiveness of the system of checks and balances in the United States based on an event.

C2.6-8. 6 Demonstrate that the U.S. government includes concepts of both a democracy and a republic.

Sample Questions

- (World/WA/US) How should we best organize to meet society's needs?
- (World) How and why did governments develop in ancient and medieval societies? How did governments differ in various locations—European nations, African nations, and China, for example?
- (WA) How does the structure of the Washington state constitution support the function of government and meet the needs of a diverse population? Whose needs are not being met? Whose voice is not represented?
- (WA) Is the initiative process a fair way to make policy? Fair to whom? Is it just?
- (US) How are power and responsibility distributed, shared, and limited in the government established by the United States Constitution?
- (US) How does the structure of the United States Constitution support the function of government and meet the needs of a diverse population? Are there currently groups whose needs are not being met? Do the groups whose needs are not being met or voices not being heard have anything in common?

C3: Understands the purposes and organization of tribal and international relationships and U.S. foreign policy.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ (World) Civilizations interact with each other in order to promote and protect their own interests.
- ▶ (WA) Washington state maintains important relationships among sovereign states (international and tribal) through both political and economic agreements.
- ▶ (US) The United States maintains formal relationships with tribal and international governments through the treaty process.

Components

(World) By the end of 6th grade, students will:

C3.6-8.1 Analyze how societies have interacted with one another.

(WA) By the end of 7th grade, students will:

C3.6-8.2 Analyze how international agreements have affected Washington state.

C3.6-8.3 Recognize that, according to the United States Constitution, treaties are “the supreme law of the land;” consequently, treaty rights supersede most state laws.

C3.6-8.4 Explain elements of the agreements contained in one or more treaty agreements between Washington tribes and the United States.

(US) By the end of 8th grade, students will:

C3.6-8.5 Identify early examples of foreign policy between the United States and other nations.

C3.6-8.6 Analyze how the United States has interacted with other countries.

Sample Questions

- (World) How did the interaction of civilizations affect the growth of some of those societies and the demise of others?
- (WA) What is the legacy of the treaty-making period on the way we live today? How have treaties been honored or disregarded?
- (US) How and why has the United States made agreements with other sovereign entities?

C4: Understands civic involvement.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ (World) The role of the citizen has evolved from ancient to modern times.
- ▶ (WA) Voting, civil discourse, education in and critical thinking and assessment of the issues, and understanding the function and purpose of government are important to be a good citizen.
- ▶ (WA/US) Citizens can impact the political process through individual and collective action. Citizens need to be informed and have critical thinking skills in order to thoughtfully impact the political process.
- ▶ (US) Governing requires active civic involvement by members of a society to maintain a balance of power in that society.

Components

(World) By the end of 6th grade, students will:

C4.6-8.1 Describe the historical origins of civic involvement.

(WA) By the end of 7th grade, students will:

C4.6-8.2 Describe the relationship between the actions of people in Washington state and the ideals outlined in the Washington state constitution.

C4.6-8.3 Employ strategies for civic involvement that address a state or local issue.

(US) By the end of 8th grade, students will:

C4.6-8.4 Analyze how a claim on an issue attempts to balance individual rights and the common good.

C4.6-8.5 Employ strategies for civic involvement that address a national issue.

Sample Questions

- (World) What did it mean to be a citizen in ancient or medieval times?
- (World) How was political power exercised differently in different places and eras?
- (WA) In what ways can individuals in Washington state exercise their political power? What are some barriers to exercising individual political power? How did barriers develop? What purpose do barriers serve and why do they continue to exist?
- (WA) How can young people make political change in their local community?
- (US/WA) How does the inclusion or exclusion of women, people of color, and other underrepresented communities in the electorate change the political focus of our government?
- (US) How should the rights and responsibilities of individuals be balanced with those of the larger society? Who gets to decide? Should individual civil rights be decided by majority rule? Why or why not?

E1: Understands that people have to make choices between wants and needs and evaluates the outcomes of those choices.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ (World) As ancient and medieval societies grew, the needs and wants of their citizens changed. These changes impacted those societies in multiple ways, influencing the futures of those societies.
- ▶ (WA) By considering alternative choices for economic decisions made by groups and individuals, one can evaluate whether the benefits outweigh the costs of those decisions.
- ▶ (US) People’s actions are influenced by the desire for economic growth. Those actions have consequences that can conflict with personal values or with the needs of other cultures present in the society whose voices are not heard in the decision-making process.

Components

(World) By the end of 6th grade, students will:

E1.6-8.1 Analyze the costs and benefits of economic choices made by groups and individuals in the past or present.

(WA) By the end of 7th grade, students will:

E1.6-8.2 Evaluate alternative approaches or solutions to current economic issues of Washington state in terms of costs and benefits for different groups.

(US) By the end of 8th grade, students will:

E1.6-8.3 Analyze examples of how groups and individuals have considered profit and personal values in making economic choices in the past or present.

Sample Questions

- (World) In what ways did the needs and wants of a society influence changes that occurred within that society?
- (WA) What are the impacts of differing solutions to a current economic issue in Washington state? Who benefits and who loses with various solutions? Who had a voice in the decisions?
- (US) How did the desire for economic growth influence people and groups in the United States? Was there equal access to economic growth for all groups?

E2: Understands how economic systems function.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ (World) Extensive trade relationships emerged between nations in ancient times to acquire scarce resources and maximize the economic standing of participating civilizations.
- ▶ (WA) Washington’s location and geographic regions affect the production of goods and the state’s role in the global economy.
- ▶ (US) The free market economy of United States is driven by the exchange of goods and services, which has many influences. Most notable is the agreement by the producer and consumer on the value of the items to be exchanged.

Components

(World) By the end of 6th grade, students will:

E2.6-8.1 Describe the production, distribution, and consumption of goods, services, and resources in societies from the past or in the present.

E2.6-8.2 Explain how scarce resources have affected international trade in the past or present.

(WA) By the end of 7th grade, students will:

E2.6-8.3 Analyze the production, distribution, and consumption of goods, services, and resources in societies from the past or in the present.

E2.6-8.4 Analyze how the forces of supply and demand have affected international trade in Washington state in the past or present.

E4: Understands the economic issues and problems that all societies face.Enduring Understanding

- ▶ (World) Societies and individuals who control trade historically have had an economic and political advantage over those who do not. Unequal distribution of wealth within a society creates distinct socio-economic classes. The managing of resources and barriers to trade creates challenges for maintaining societal lifestyles.
- ▶ (WA) Natural resources and climate impact economic and population development differently in distinct regions of Washington state.
- ▶ (US) Groups and individuals who control elements of trade tend to have an economic and political advantage over those who do not. Unequal distribution of wealth within a society creates distinct socio-economic classes. The managing of resources creates challenges for maintaining their lifestyle, or facing the possibility of societal strife.

Components

(World) By the end of 6th grade, students will:

E4.6-8.1 Explain the distribution of wealth and sustainability of resources in the world.

E4.6-8.2 Explain barriers to trade and how those barriers influence trade among nations.

(WA) By the end of 7th grade, students will:

E4.6-8.3 Analyze the distribution of wealth and sustainability of resources in Washington state.

E4.6-8.4 Explain the costs and benefits of trade policies to individuals, businesses, and society in Washington state.

(US) By the end of 8th grade, students will:

E4.6-8.5 Analyze the distribution of wealth and sustainability of resources in the United States.

E4.6-8.6 Explain the costs and benefits of trade policies to individuals, businesses, and society in the United States.

Sample Questions

- (World) What were the effects of resource management on society? How did the management of resources affect barriers to trade? How did barriers to trade affect management of resources?
- (WA) How have the use and conservation of resources changed the development and economy of some regions in Washington state?
- (US) What were the effects of resource management on the development of the United States? What was the impact of slavery on U.S. resources and what are the enduring legacies?
- How is a community's standard of living connected to the management of resources?

G2.6-8.2, G2.6-8.4, G2.6-8.5, G2.6-8.7, and G2.6-8.8: Washington State History: Units 1 (Territory and Treaty Making) and 1 (The Walla Walla Treaty Council of 1855); and U.S. History: Units 1, 2, 3, and 4

G3: Understands the geographic context of global issues and events.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ (WORLD, WA, US) Geography impacts issues and events locally and globally throughout history.
- ▶ (WORLD, WA, US) Societies must learn how to manage and replenish their resources in order to maintain their way of life, to maintain mutually beneficial trade relationships, and to develop or adapt a diverse cultural landscape through migration and settlement patterns.

Components

(WORLD) By the end of 6th grade, students will:

G3.6-8.1 Explain how learning about the geography of the world helps us understand global issues such as diversity, sustainability, and trade.

(WA) At the end of 7th grade, students will:

G3.6-8.2 Explain how learning about the geography of Washington state helps us understand global issues such as diversity, sustainability, and trade.

(US) By the end of 8th grade, students will:

G3.6-8.3 Explain how learning about the geography of the United States helps us understand global issues such as diversity, trade, and sustainability.

Sample Questions

- (WORLD) How did the way societies dealt with a shortage of resources inform us about the importance of sustainability?
- (WA) What geographic features make Washington state an attractive trading partner?
- (US) How have geographic features of the United States contributed to its diverse cultural landscape? How have they contributed to disputes over resources?

Since Time Immemorial Connections

Middle School Curriculum

G3.6-8.1-3: Washington State History: Units 2 and 3

H1: Understands historical chronology.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ (World) In the last 10,000 years ancient peoples from regions all around the globe shifted from a life of foraging to farming, developed civilizations, advanced technology, and connected all regions of the world.
- ▶ (WA) History is made up of a series of events that define a society, nation, or state.
- ▶ (US) History is made up of a series of events that define a society, nation, or state.

Components

(World) By the end of 6th grade, students will:

H1.6-8.1 Analyze different cultural measurements of time.

H1.6-8.2 Explain how the rise of civilizations defines eras in world history in two or more regions of the world.

H1.6-8.3 Explain how the rise of civilizations defines two or more eras, such as:

- 8,000 BCE to 500 BCE
- 500 BCE to 500 CE
- 500 CE to 1600 CE

(WA) By the end of 7th grade, students will:

H1.6-8.4 Analyze a major historical event and how it is represented on timelines from different cultural perspectives, including those of indigenous people.

H1.6-8.5 Explain how themes and developments have defined eras in Washington state history from 1854 to the present:

- Territory and treaty-making (1854-1889)
- Railroads, reform, immigration, and labor (1889-1930)
- Turmoil and triumph (1930-1974)
- New technologies and industries in contemporary Washington (1975-present)

(US) By the end of 8th grade, students will:

H1.6-8.6 Explain how themes and developments help to define eras in United States history from 1763 to 1877, including:

- Fighting for independence (1763-1783)
- Establishing the new nation (1781-1815)
- Slavery, expansion, removal, and reform (1801-1850)
- Civil War and Reconstruction (1850-1877)

Sample Questions

- (World/WA/US) How might different groups of people create alternative timelines and define eras differently?
- (World) Why do we divide history into periods and how are those divisions identified? Who writes the histories? Whose histories are we teaching? How do historians decide what goes on a timeline of world history and which historians get to decide?
- (WA) How have past events helped define an era in Washington state? How do historians decide what goes on a timeline of Washington state history? Which historians get to decide?
- (WA/US) What specific events would be on a Washington state timeline and a national timeline?
- (US) How have past events helped define an era in the United States? How do historians decide what goes on a timeline of U.S. history? Which historians get to decide?

H1.6-8.6: U.S. History: Units 1, 2, 3, and 4

H2: Understands and analyzes causal factors that have shaped major events in history.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ (World) Periods in human history are marked by events and people who have changed the course of human and global development.
- ▶ (WA) Social movements, technological developments, and cultural and ethnic groups have shaped Washington state's history.
- ▶ (US) Individual people, ethnic groups, cultural movements, and technological developments have all impacted how the United States has developed.

Components

(World) By the end of 6th grade, students will:

H2.6-8.1 Explain and analyze how individuals, movements, cultural and ethnic groups, and technology from past civilizations have shaped world history.

(WA) By the end of 7th grade, students will:

H2.6-8.2 Explain and analyze how individuals and movements have shaped Washington state history since statehood.

H2.6-8.3 Explain and analyze how cultures and ethnic groups contributed to Washington state history since statehood.

H2.6-8.4 Explain and analyze how technology and ideas have impacted Washington state history since statehood.

(US) By the end of 8th grade, students will:

H2.6-8.5 Explain and analyze how individuals and movements have shaped United States history (1763-1877).

H2.6-8.6 Explain and analyze how cultures and cultural and ethnic groups have contributed to United States history (1763-1877).

H2.6-8.7 Explain and analyze how technology and ideas have impacted United States history (1763-1877).

Sample Questions

- (World) What influenced changes in the way people lived, and how did those changes shift global development in new directions?
- (WA) In what ways have Washington's present and future been shaped by the people, social movements, or technologies of the state?
- (WA) What major events contributed to the development of Washington after statehood?
- (WA) What roles have tribes, slavery, and migration each had in the development of Washington?
- (US) What major events leading up to the American Revolution influenced the Bill of Rights? To whom did the Bill of Rights originally apply?
- (US) How did the geographic expansion of the United States impact indigenous groups in the western U.S.?
- (US) What major developments in industry deepened sectionalism before and after the Civil War?

H2.6-8.4 and H2.6-8.7: Washington State History: Units 2 and 3

H3: Understands that there are multiple perspectives and interpretations of historical events.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ (World) Indigenous people in all regions of the world have their own historical narrative that can differ from mainstream historical accounts of the same event.
- ▶ (WA) Social movements, technological developments, and cultural and ethnic groups have shaped Washington state's history.
- ▶ (US) By analyzing and interpreting historical materials from a variety of perspectives, historians can identify multiple causal factors that shape major events in United States history.

Components

(World) By the end of 6th grade, students will:

H3.6-8.1 Analyze and interpret historical materials from a variety of perspectives in world history.

H3.6-8.2 Analyze multiple causal factors to create and support a claim about major events in world history.

(WA) By the end of 7th grade, students will:

H3.6-8.3 Explain, analyze, and develop an argument about how Washington state has been impacted by:

- Individuals and movements.
- Cultures and cultural groups.
- Technology and ideas.

(US) By the end of 8th grade, students will:

H3.6-8.4 Analyze and interpret historical materials from a variety of perspectives in United States history (1763-1877).

H3.6-8.5 Analyze multiple causal factors to create positions on major events in United States history (1763-1877).

Sample Questions

- (World/WA/US) How do multiple perspectives on a historical event shape our viewpoint of that event? How can one access multiple perspectives since not all voices are equally heard?
- (World/WA/US) What could you learn by comparing timelines of the same era made by different cultural, social, and ethnic groups? How were new migrant groups to the U.S. treated on arrival?
- (WA) In what ways has Washington's present and future been shaped by the people, social movements, or technologies of the state?
- (US) How do the resources we use to identify causal factors impact our perspective of a major historical event in United States history?

High School Standards by Discipline

Skills (9th–12th Grade)

Through research, students hone their ability to gather and evaluate information and then use that information as evidence in a wide range of endeavors. The ELA/Literacy Common Core Standards emphasize these skills as key to an integrated model of literacy. The C3 Framework and the Indicators in Dimension 3 apply this model to social studies inquiry (Swan et al., 2013, p.56) In our rapidly-changing world, where ideas, information, and opinions are but mouse-clicks away, students more than ever need to learn how to keep learning in order to cultivate sound understandings. As a result, they need a deep well of powerful and disciplined strategies for answering their questions and for gathering data that can be evaluated and transformed into evidence for justifiable decisions. (Swan et al., 2013, p. 89)

World History (9th/10th Grade)

In ninth and tenth grades, students apply their deeper understanding of social studies concepts on a global scale. The recommended context in the ninth and tenth grades is primarily modern world history and geography, from 1450 to the present. Students explore major themes and developments that shaped the modern world, including human rights, revolution, and democracy, to develop an understanding of the roots of current world issues. Students also consider more deeply the role of economics in shaping the world's events.

U.S. History (11th Grade)

In eleventh grade, students have the intellectual and social capacity to deepen their study of history. The recommended context in eleventh grade is U.S. history, primarily the 20th and 21st centuries, from 1877 to the present. Students consider multiple accounts of events and issues in order to understand the politics, economics, geography, and history of this country from a variety of perspectives.

Civics and Contemporary World Problems (12th Grade)

In twelfth grade, students use the conceptual understandings that they have developed in civics, economics, geography, and history to explore pressing issues in our world today. The contexts in twelfth grade for these conceptual understandings are usually found in a semester of civics/government and a semester of current world problems (CWP). In civics/government, students examine local, state, tribal, and national government and how the state and federal constitutions govern the rights and responsibilities of all residents and citizens in Washington and the rest of the United States. In CWP, students examine global themes rooted in environmental issues, economic development, human rights, and civic action and responsibility, by examining current events and primary documents from around the world. Students should graduate ready to become active citizens and leaders of their communities, the nation, and the world.

Social Studies Learning Standards

Social Studies Skills: The student understands and applies reasoning skills to conduct research, deliberate, and form and evaluate positions through the processes of reading, writing, and communicating.

Civics: The student understands and applies knowledge of government, law, politics, and the nation's fundamental documents to make decisions about local, state, national, tribal, and international issues, and to demonstrate thoughtful, participatory citizenship.

Economics: The student applies understanding of economic concepts and systems to analyze decision-making and the interactions between individuals, households, business, government, and societies.

Geography: The student uses a spatial perspective to make reasoned decisions by applying the concept of location, region, and movement, and demonstrating knowledge of how geographic features and human cultures impact environment.

History: The student understands and applies knowledge of historical thinking, chronology, eras, turning points, major ideas, individuals, and themes of local, Washington state, tribal, United States, and world history in order to evaluate how history shapes the present and future.

SSS1: Uses critical reasoning skills to analyze and evaluate claims.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ Social studies skills include the ability to consider multiple viewpoints and weigh the validity of those viewpoints by applying an analysis of evidence.

Components

- SSS1.9-12.1 Critique the precision of a claim about an issue or event.
- SSS1.9-12.2 Critique the use of reasoning, sequencing, and details supporting the claim.
- SSS1.9-12.3 Explain points of agreement and disagreement that experts have regarding interpretations of sources.
- SSS1.9-12.4 Gather relevant information from multiple sources representing a wide range of views while using the origin, authority, structure, context, and corroborative value of the sources to guide the selection.
- SSS1.9-12.5 Explain the challenge and opportunities of addressing problems over place and time using disciplinary and interdisciplinary lenses.

Sample Questions

- How can we recognize if a claim is clear, precise, and adequately supported?
- How can we strengthen our arguments by effectively analyzing both claims and counterclaims?
- What advantages are there to considering multiple perspectives when learning about an issue or event?
- What are the points of agreement and disagreement surrounding interpretations of a topic?
- Explain the characteristics and causes of local, regional, and global problems in multiple contexts.

SSS2: Uses inquiry-based research.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ The ability to develop questions is the foundation of a rich social studies experience. The next step to initiate an inquiry is the ability to answer those questions by planning how to find reliable and credible answers.

Components

SSS2.9-12.1 Create compelling and supporting questions that focus on an idea, issue, or event.

SSS2.9-12.2 Evaluate the validity, reliability, and credibility of sources when researching an issue or event.

SSS2.9-12.3 Determine the kinds of sources and relevant information that are helpful, taking into consideration multiple points of view represented in the sources, the types of sources available, and the potential uses of the sources.

SSS2.9-12.4 Explain how supporting questions contribute to an inquiry and how, through engaging source work, new compelling and supporting questions emerge.

Sample Questions

- Why is it important to keep asking questions when conducting research?
- How do the answers to questions help lead to additional questions?
- What kinds of sources are needed to adequately answer questions, state claims, and provide evidence?
- How can you decide whether or not a source has credibility?
- How do you know that you have accumulated information that represents a range of multiple viewpoints?

SSS3: Deliberates public issues.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ Social studies skills include the ability to debate an issue using civil discourse backed with a range of credible sources.

Components

SSS3.9-12.1 Evaluate one's own viewpoint and the viewpoints of others in the context of a discussion.

SSS3.9-12.2 Apply a range of deliberative and democratic strategies and procedures to make decisions and take action in their classrooms, school, or out-of-school civic context.

SSS3.9-12.3 Use appropriate deliberative processes in multiple settings.

SSS3.9-12.4 Analyze the impact and the appropriate roles of personal interests and perspectives on the application of civic virtues, democratic principles, constitutional rights, and human rights.

SSS3.9-12.5 Integrate evidence from multiple relevant historical sources and interpretations into a reasoned argument about the past and its relationship to the present.

SSS3.9-12.6 Assess options for individual and collective action to address local, regional, or global problems by engaging in self-reflection, strategy identification, and complex causal reasoning.

Sample Questions

- How do differing viewpoints contribute to the democratic process and effective policy decisions?
- Why and how do legislators use the deliberative process?
- How can we create a culture of civic discourse?
- How has civic debate and our knowledge of the past served to inform contemporary policies?

SSS4: Creates a product that uses social studies content to support a claim and presents the product in an appropriate manner to a meaningful audience.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ Social studies skills include the formation of questions, the ability to apply disciplinary knowledge and concepts, gather and evaluate sources, and develop claims and use evidence to support those claims.

Components

- SSS4.9-12.1 Evaluate multiple reasons or factors to develop a position paper or presentation.
- SSS4.9-12.2 Construct arguments using precise and knowledgeable claims, with evidence from multiple and reliable sources, while acknowledging counterclaims and evidentiary weaknesses.
- SSS4.9-12.3 Present adaptations of arguments and explanations that feature evocative ideas and perspectives on issues and topics to reach a range of audiences and venues outside the classroom, using print and oral technologies (e.g., posters, essays, letters, debates, speeches, reports, and maps) and digital technologies (e.g. Internet, social media, and digital documentary).
- SSS4.9-12.4 Create strategies to avoid plagiarism and respect intellectual property when developing a paper or presentation.

Sample Questions

- What constitutes a valid claim?
- What kinds of questions and sources are helpful when addressing a social science inquiry?
- Explain why historians and other social science experts have agreement and disagreement about interpretations and applications of disciplinary concepts.
- Why is it important to keep asking questions during research?

C1: Understands key ideals and principles of the United States, including those in the Declaration of Independence, Constitution, and other foundational documents.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ The founding of the United States was based on values and principles such as liberty, equality, the limitation of power through separation, and the rule of law. These principles were established by such historical documents as the English Bill of Rights and Magna Carta.

Components

By the end of the 9/10th grade, students will:

This component is taught at the 11th and 12th grade level.

By the end of the 11th/12th grade, students will:

C1.11-12.1 Analyze and evaluate the ideas and principles contained in the foundational documents of the United States, and explain how they influence the social and political system.

C1.11-12.2 Analyze the impact of constitutions, laws, treaties and international agreements on the maintenance of national and international order.

C1.11-12.3 Apply civic virtues and democratic principles when working with others.

Sample Questions

- Have the key ideals and principles espoused in the Constitution stood the test of time and survived till today?
- Are all people created and treated equally?
- How do we protect liberty for all in this nation?
- Can equality exist in a free society?
- When has the United States fallen short of its stated ideals?
- What is the proper balance between security and liberty?
- Have key American ideals and principles been evenly applied in the treaty relationships between tribes and the United States government?

C2: Understands the purposes, organization, and function of governments, laws, and political systems.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ Governments are created by a variety of people, for a variety of reasons, and in a variety of ways. There are fundamental differences in what a political system's goals and citizens' expectations are. These governments and institutions are complex and attempt to provide order and rules that guide citizens' actions and behaviors.

Components

By the end of the 9th/10th grade, students will:

C2.9-10.1 Explain how citizens and institutions address social and political problems at the local, state, tribal, national, and international level.

C2.9-10.2 Explain the origins, functions, and structure of government.

By the end of the 11th/12th grade, students will:

C2.11-12.1 Analyze citizens' and institutions' effectiveness in addressing social and political problems at the local, state, tribal, national and/or international level.

C2.11-12.2 Analyze the origins, functions, and structure of government with reference to the United States, Washington state, and tribal constitutions.

C2.11-12.3 Evaluate the effectiveness of the American system compared to international governmental systems.

C2.11-12.4 Evaluate the effectiveness of our system of checks and balances in limiting the power of government at the national, state, and local levels.

Sample Questions

- How do citizens discern between powers of local, state, national, tribal, and international governments?
- In what ways does the federalist system resolve conflicts in a consistent and equitable way?
- In what ways can citizens engage the government to resolve conflicts between jurisdictional or conflicting policy?
- In what formal and informal ways have the powers of the government changed over time?
- How can a government be created to limit its power and protect the rights of its citizens?

C4: Understands civic involvement.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ Americans, at birth, are granted unalienable rights while at the same time they are charged with maintaining certain civic responsibilities. Rights are outlined in such documents as the United States Constitution. People’s responsibilities include voting, paying taxes to support the common good, and participating in resolving issues at the local, state, tribal, and national level.

Components

By the end of 9th/10th grade, students will:

- C4.9-10.1 Use appropriate deliberative processes in multiple settings.
- C4.9-10.2 Analyze how governments throughout history have or have not valued individual rights over the common good.
- C4.9-10.3 Describe the impact and the appropriate roles of personal interests and perspectives on the application of civic virtues, democratic principles, constitutional rights, and human rights.
- C4.9-10.4 Explain how social and political problems are addressed at the local, regional, state, tribal, national, and international level.

E1: Understands that people have to make choices between wants and needs and evaluates the outcomes of those choices.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ People make decisions about how to use resources to maximize their well-being. They do this by assessing their available resources; considering the wants and needs of individuals and communities; and weighing the costs and benefits of various decisions.

Components

By the end of 9/10th grade, students will:

E1.9-10.1 Analyze how the costs and benefits of economic choices have shaped events in the world in the past and present.

E1.9-10.2 Analyze how choices made by individuals, firms, or governments are constrained by the resources to which they have access.

By the end of 11th/12th grade, students will:

E1.11-12.1 Analyze how economic incentives influence choices that may result in policies with a range of costs and benefits for different groups in the United States.

E1.11-12.2 Assess the optimal level of a public service with the marginal costs and benefits of providing a service in the United States.

E1.11-12.3 Analyze how economic choices made by groups and individuals in the global economy can impose costs and provide benefits.

E1.11-12.4 Use marginal benefits and marginal costs to construct an argument for or against an approach or solution to an economic issue.

Sample Questions

- How does the availability of resources impact a country's ability to make choices?
- How do economic incentives affect choices the United States has made over time?
- How should the United States government decide what public services to provide?
- How should individuals' wants and needs balance with national and global interests?
- How do we know when an economic decision is beneficial?
- How can we balance the traditional values of tribes and other cultural groups within a changing economy?
- Do costs and benefits of economic choices vary between groups?

E2: Understands how economic systems function.Enduring Understanding

- ▶ People exchange goods and service when both parties expect to gain from the trade. Within each type of economic system, resources, income, technology, government policies, and the interaction between buyers and sellers are analyzed to determine what the best decision is for each country.

Components

By the end of 9/10th grade, students will:

- E2.9-10.1 Explain how a variety of economies have shaped the production, distribution, and consumption of goods, services, and resources around the world in the past or present.
- E2.9-10.2 Describe the effects of specialization, availability of resources, and technology on a variety of economies.
- E2.9-10.3 Analyze how and why countries have specialized in the production of particular goods and services in the past or present.
- E2.9-10.4 Analyze the relationship between the distribution of income and the allocation of resources in a variety of economies.

By the end of 11th/12th grade, students will:

- E2.11-12.1 Analyze how comparative advantage has affected the United States' imports and exports in the past or present.
- E2.11-12.2 Describe how imports are paid for by exports, savings, or borrowing in the United States.
- E2.11-12.3 Describe how market outcomes, surpluses, and shortages are determined by buyers' incomes and preferences, sellers' production and price, and government policies in the United States.
- E2.11-12.4 Evaluate the advantages, disadvantages, and stability of different economic systems for countries and groups of people, both short and long term.
- E2.11-12.5 Evaluate the effects of specialization, availability of resources, and technology on a variety of economies.

Sample Questions

- How does specialization, availability of resources, and technology affect economic systems?
- Should the United States trade with countries if it will experience an economic loss?
- How efficient is the United States' mixed market system?
- Can a country change the type of economic system it uses?
- Is global competition beneficial?
- How have economic systems (traditional, market, command) changed over time?
- How does immigrant labor affect the United States' economy?

Components

E2.11-12.6 Evaluate the level of competition based on the introduction of new products, production methods, entry into the market, and the consumers' knowledge of goods or services in a variety of economies.

E2.11-12.7 Evaluate the relationship between the distribution of income and the allocation of resources in a variety of economies.

G1: Understands the physical characteristics, cultural significance, and location of places, regions, and spatial patterns on the Earth’s surface.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ The Earth’s physical characteristics have a profound effect on the development of human cultures. Cultural development depends, in a significant way, on the places and regions in which they are located.

Components

By the end of 9th/10th grade, students will:

- G1.9-10.1 Define the characteristics of each of the major world regions.
- G1.9-10.2 Explain the causes and effects of voluntary and involuntary migration in the world.
- G1.9-10.3 Create maps that employ geospatial and related technologies to display and explain the spatial patterns of culture and environment.
- G1.9-10.4 Explain relationships between the locations of places and regions, and their political, cultural, and economic dynamics, using maps, satellite images, photographs, and other representations.

By the end of 11th/12th grade, students will:

- G1.11-12.1 Analyze how differences in regions and spatial patterns have emerged in the United States from natural processes and human activities.
- G1.11-12.2 Analyze interactions and conflicts between various cultures in the United States.
- G1.11-12.3 Compare the causes and effects of voluntary and involuntary migration in the United States.
- G1.11-12.4 Analyze information from geographic tools, including computer-based mapping systems, to draw conclusions about an issue or event.
- G1.11-12.5 Evaluate the complexities of regions and the challenges involved in defining those regions.
- G1.11-12.6 Assess the social, economic, and political factors affecting cultural interactions.
- G1.11-12.7 Predict future opportunities and obstacles connected with international migration.

Sample Questions

- How have geographic factors caused cultures (including tribal cultures) to develop differently in regions across the world?
- What are the geographic causes of the partisan divide between Americans and immigrants in rural areas and in urban areas?
- How did Dust Bowl migrations during the 1930s alter cultural patterns of Oklahoma and California?
- What are the physical or cultural barriers that impact global human rights challenges?
- In what ways is northern Africa similar to and different from sub-Saharan Africa and in what ways is northern Africa really a part of the Middle East region?

G2: Understands human interaction with the environment.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ There is an interconnectedness between humans, other living species, and our physical environment that can be understood by considering the role the ecosystem plays in shaping the development and interactions of human history, governments, cultures, resource use, and technologies on a local, national, regional, and global scale.

Components

By the end of 9th/10th grade, students will:

- G2.9-10.1 Analyze human interaction with the environment across the world in the past or present.
- G2.9-10.2 Explain how humans modify the environment with technology.
- G2.9-10.3 Explain that the environment is modified through agriculture, industry, settlement, lifestyles, and other forms of activity.
- G2.9-10.4 Explain that humans cope with and adapt to environmental conditions.

By the end of 11th/12th grade, students will:

- G2.11-12.1 Evaluate human interaction with the environment in the United States in the past or present.
- G2.11-12.2 Analyze how the United States balances protections of the environment and economic development.
- G2.11-12.3 Evaluate the impact of human settlement activities on the environmental and cultural characteristics of specific places and regions.
- G2.11-12.4 Evaluate how human interaction with the environment has affected economic growth and sustainability.
- G2.11-12.5 Evaluate how technology can create environmental problems and solutions.
- G2.11-12.6 Evaluate how political and economic decisions throughout time have influenced cultural and environmental characteristics of various places and regions.
- G2.11-12.7 Evaluate current opportunities and obstacles connected with international migration.

Sample Questions

G3: Understands the geographic context of global issues and events.

Enduring Understanding

- ▶ Geographic elements affect global issues such as the distribution of wealth and technology, the prevalence of war and disease, and the enforcement of human rights and environmental protection.

Components

By the end of 9th/10th grade, students will:

G3.9-10.1 Define how the geography of expansion and encounter have shaped global politics and economics in history.

G3.9-10.2 Analyze the reciprocal nature of how historical events and the spatial diffusion of ideas, technologies, and cultural practices have influenced migration patterns and the distribution of human population.

G3.9-10.3 Evaluate the consequences of human-made and natural catastrophes on global trade, politics, and human migration.

By the end of 11th/12th grade, students will:

G3.11-12.1 Evaluate elements of geography to trace the emergence of the United States as a global economic and political force in the past or present.

G3.11-12.2 Evaluate the impact of economic activities and political decisions on spatial patterns within and among urban, suburban, and rural regions in the United States.

G3.11-12.3 Analyze how the geography of globalization affects local diversity.

Learning Standards create coherent instruction within and throughout grade levels, intertwining content and thought processes to provide high expectations and access for all students. Standards articulate what students should know and be able to do in each content area.

Teachers plan instruction based on the learning standards as a means to drive the development of knowledge and skills.

Lead with Learning Standards.

Basic education—Goals of school districts. (RCW 28A.150.210)

The goals of each school district, with the involvement of parents and community members, shall be to provide opportunities for every student to develop the knowledge and skills essential to:

- (1) Read with comprehension, write effectively, and communicate successfully in a variety of ways and settings and with a variety of audiences;
- (2) Know and apply the core concepts and principles of mathematics; social, physical, and life sciences; civics and history, including different cultures and participation in representative government; geography; arts; and health and fitness; Goals 3 and 4 are:
- (3) Think analytically, logically, and creatively, and to integrate technology literacy and fluency as well as different experiences and knowledge to form reasoned judgments and solve problems; and
- (4) Understand the importance of work and finance and how performance, effort, and decisions directly affect future career and educational opportunities.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

Q: What shifts have occurred in the Washington State K–12 Learning Standards for Social Studies?

A: For a detailed understanding of the revisions to the Washington State K–12 Learning Standards for Social Studies (“Learning Standards”) please refer to the introduction to the Learning Standards document. There are three primary changes to the Learning Standards: First, language is adjusted to align with the language of both the Common Core and the College, Career, and Civic Life (C3) framework. This consistency of language helps connect the Learning Standards to both literacy and inquiry. Second, the Learning Standards are reformatted to be easier to apply and understand. Subjects are color coded and more clearly numbered to identify the subject and focus of each standard. Finally, the Learning Standards now include an “Enduring Understanding.” The Enduring

Appendix 1: Frequently Asked Questions

Understanding points the teacher and student towards the big idea that students should come away with once exposed to them.

Q: When the Superintendent of Public Instruction adopts learning standards, are they required to be taught in school districts?

A: Yes, when the content area is named as a primary goal in the Basic Education Act. If a content area is not named as a primary goal, then the learning standards must be taught if and when the subject is offered.

Q: What is the difference between Essential Academic Learning Requirements (EALRs) and learning standards?

A: Nothing. Washington's 1993 Basic Education Act defines Essential Academic Learning Requirements (EALRs) as what "students need to know and be able to do". In recent years, Washington has shifted to using the overarching term "learning standards" instead of EALRs. All current learning standards are posted on the Learning and Teaching page of the OSPI website.

Q: Is it required to teach every performance standard?

A: The team of educators who created the revised Washington State K–12 Learning Standards for Social Studies ("Learning Standards") has worked to make sure that the Learning Standards are both comprehensive and manageable. If social studies is provided reasonable academic time, teachers should be able to cover all Learning Standards in a grade level. If teachers introduce students to each Enduring Understanding, then all performance standards will be addressed. While the number of performance standards can seem daunting, best practices allow for the integrated teaching of multiple learning standards. Such integration is not limited to social studies; rather, cross-content teaching strategies incorporate, for example, English language arts, math, science, and the arts.

Q: Are all Washington State K–12 Learning Standards for Social Studies tested?

A: Teachers engaged in best practice will provide formative and summative assessment of student knowledge and skills throughout the year regardless of discipline. While the majority of assessments are not required, the State of Washington requires that students be administered a civics assessment in grades 4 or 5, 7 or 8, and 11 or 12.

Requirements for the civics assessments are found here:

<https://app.leg.wa.gov/rcw/default.aspx?cite=28A.230.095>.

OSPI-developed assessments for all grade levels and social studies content areas can be found on the OSPI website.

Q: Are the Washington State K–12 Learning Standards for Social Studies vertically aligned?

A: Yes. Teachers will find alignment in all five areas of the social studies. Teachers and students should recognize a progression of skills and disciplines increasing in complexity and rigor from grade to grade.

Appendix 1: Frequently Asked Questions

Q: Is there a difference between “learning standards” and “curriculum”?

A: Yes. Learning standards signify what “students need to know and be able to do”—the what. Curriculum refers to the set of lesson plans, units of study, textbooks, instructional materials, and/or teaching strategies that provide students access to the learning standards—the how. In this case, the term curriculum is used to reference the entire course design, not just the core instructional materials adopted by a district.

Q: Does OSPI provide curriculum to address learning standards?

A: Washington state operates under local control. This means districts are responsible for determining the most appropriate materials to address the learning standards and for providing those to teachers and students. The only exception is the requirement to teach local tribal history, per RCW 28A.320.170 <https://app.leg.wa.gov/RCW/default.aspx?cite=28A.320.170>. Because local tribal history is a required curriculum for all students, we have provided OSPI’s Since Time Immemorial curriculum connections to learning standards within this document. As districts make curriculum choices to address learning standards, we recommend looking at both the learning standards documents and the OSPI-developed Washington Quality Review Rubric for Social Studies Lessons and Units (EQuIP format).

Q: Does social studies have to be taught at every grade?

A: Washington state has graduation requirements for social studies. In order for students to meet these graduation requirements, they must have significant knowledge of the social studies content areas. In order to ensure that all students can achieve to their fullest potential, districts must ensure that students have access to a high quality, comprehensive social studies education in all grade levels.

Q: What if a school or district can’t teach ALL of the learning standards?

A: Effective and comprehensive implementation of the learning standards depends on high-quality curriculum, skilled teachers, and supportive school environments. Schools could consider conducting program evaluations to determine what barriers exist to implementing learning standards. Additionally, the teaching of learning standards can be integrated in such a way that math, English language arts, science, social studies, environmental and sustainability education, and other disciplines can be addressed within a single unit of study.

Omitting learning standards at any grade level leads to a loss of learning that may result in a lack of conceptual understanding at higher levels and may contribute to increased struggle in the process of achieving procedural fluency and application. Schools should identify strategies to implement all of the learning standards and endeavor to find solutions when there are challenges.
