 - c. Expanding pathways and strategies to prepare and recruit diverse teachers and administrators.
 - d. Recommending current programs and resources that should be redirected to narrow the gap.
 - e. Identifying data elements and systems needed to monitor progress in closing the gap.

The Educational Opportunity Gap Oversight and Accountability Committee is the only committee within Washington that is solely focused on closing the opportunity gap, and its recommendations have been instrumental in shaping legislation and policy decisions. The Committee's continued work will provide additional perspectives and strategies to close the opportunity gap. In particular, the EOGOAC will play an important role in ensuring that statewide endeavors—such as educator cultural competency training, implementation of new student discipline rules and procedures, and the formation of community truancy boards—develop in a culturally competent and responsive manner.
