

FEPPP Resource Package

Resources presented in Financial Education for Special Populations Students, (7/11/23)

Questions? Contact us! www.feppp.org | feppp@k12.wa.us

Miladys Garcia - miladys.garcia@k12.wa.us | Amy Kliewer - amy.kliewer@k12.wa.us

Last updated 8/1/23

Financial Education Curriculums

Keys to Your Financial Future Personal Finance Curriculum (Annie E. Casey Foundation Jim Casey Youth Opportunities Initiative)

 Developed for foster youth, with applications for other special populations such as unhomed, institutionalized, and low-income youth, this free, turnkey curriculum is appropriate for ages 16-26.
 Facilitator Guide and Participant Guides available for download. No registration required.

"Becoming economically secure is an important goal for young people transitioning from foster care into adulthood. The Casey Foundation offers a comprehensive financial education curriculum — built around eight modules or "keys" — to help youth grow their financial aptitude and make better financial decisions."

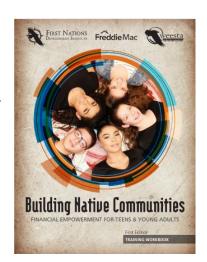

FEPPP Resource Package

Building Native Communities: Financial Empowerment for Teens and Young Adults (First Nation Development Institute and Oweesta Corporation)

 Developed for native youth by First Nation Development Institute and Oweesta Corporation, this free, turnkey curriculum was developed for grades 9-12. No registration required.

"This financial skills curriculum is for young adults within native communities. Our purpose is to: enable community members to celebrate their traditional values by learning financial skills that will help each person make informed financial decisions for themselves, their family, and their community."

Additional curriculums:

- Building Native Communities: Investing for the Future
- Building Native Communities: Financial Skills for Families

FEPPP Resource Package

Grades 9 – 12 Units & Lessons

Capacity, Character, Collateral, Capital (Credit)

Source: FDIC's Money Smart for Young People, 9-12 Lesson 7

Language(s): English

The Almighty Dollar? (Credit Cards)

Source: FDIC's Money Smart for Young People, 9-12 Lesson 7

Language: English

Calculating the numbers in your paycheck

Source: CFPB

Language(s): English & Spanish

Materials: Teacher Guide: English or Spanish

Student Worksheet: English or Spanish

"How to read a paystub" handout

Receiving from Family, Friends, and Non-Profit (10-12)

Receiving from Government Programs Unit (10-12)

The Perez Family Case Assessment (10-12)

Source: Take Charge Today (Registration required)

Grade(s): 10-12

Language(s): English

FEPPP Resource Package

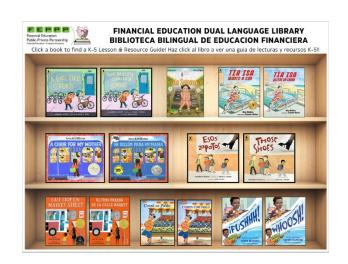

Dual Language Financial Education Resources

FEPPP's Spanish Resources for K-12 (PDF)

Spanish Resources for Adults (PDF)

FEPPP's Financial Education Dual Language Spanish Bookshelves

- Links to free, online read alouds in English and Spanish (heritage speakers, variety of regional dialects)
- SEL & Financial Education Standards alignment
- At least one equitably translated classroom resource in both English and Spanish included in Lesson & Resource Guides

Financial Education Digital Games & Activities

Digital Games & Activities for Students K-5

Digital Games & Activities for Students 6-12

$pending Frenzy: Real life and independent living means taking responsibility. It means putting a roof over your head, paying the light bill, and buying food. Sometimes that means hard work and sacrifice. But it also means freedom, empowerment, and the fun of living on your own. Are you ready for the challenge?

The $pending Frenzy App was created by First Nations Development Institute and Shawn Spruce Consulting with support from the FINRA Investor Education Foundation. Special thanks to Native American Community Development Corporation for assistance with design and piloting of the app.

Registration required.

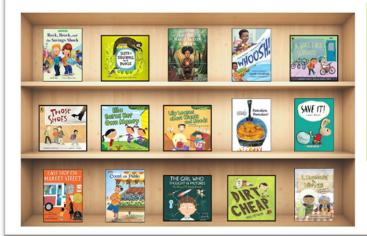

FEPPP Resource Package

FEPPP Financial Education Library

A curated collection of children's books with personal finance and economic themes! Click a book cover to find a link to a free video read aloud of the book, as well as discussion guides and other no- or low-prep text-aligned lessons, materials, and more!

FEPPP Financial Education Library

Personal Finance & Economics Comic Books

Practical Money Skills: Educational Comics

Black Panther: Investing in Each Other

Federal Reserve of New York: Educational Comic Books

- Available in English and Spanish
- Middle School and High School Lesson Plans included for select comics

FEPPP Resource Package

The Social and Emotional Aspects of Personal Finance Behaviors

	Self-Awareness	Self-Management	Self-Efficacy
Spending All choices have an opportunity cost, including our choices to spend time or money.	Wants and needs are different, and connect to different emotions	Impulsive spending has an opportunity cost Consumer skills, such as	Outside factors (like friends or commercials) influence how we spend time and money
	Spending money brings up emotions, and those emotions influence behavior	comparison shopping or waiting for sales, reduce spending	Everyone is capable of making smart financial decisions
	"Wealth" is a personal definition and can reflect cultural values and traditions.	Sticking to a budget or spending limit is practicing decision-making skills	Managing money is a life-long learning experience
Saving Delayed gratification is resisting something now for something greater in the future.	Saving money can be difficult, and bring up challenging emotions	Self-control can help achieve savings goals	Recognize goal achievement can be affected by a positive attitude
	Growth mindset can apply to life outside school, like money and personal interests	Creating alternative choices to spending activities is problem- solving	All goals can and will go off track! Persevere by reflecting and making small changes
Lending/Borrowing The foundation of credit is trust, which is developed over time and practiced through borrowing and lending.	Lending to an irresponsible borrower can lead to difficult emotions	Problem-solve by developing a list of conditions (rules) for borrowing/lending	People have different emotions around lending and borrowing, and this can affect how we act
	Being a responsible borrower reduces risk (such as conflict)	Make lending decisions by considering the qualities of a good borrower	We can learn from irresponsible borrowing, and make efforts to rebuild trust with others
Earning Job and career choices will change as people learn and grow.	Consider careers that connect to personal interests	Communication and personal behavior are important to most jobs and careers	Self-worth is not determined by a person's job or career
	Effort and growth is just as important as accomplishments	Entrepreneurs need to problem-solve and make decisions	Working paid or unpaid jobs helps contribute to our school, home, and community A percentage of earned income goes towards local services (taxes)
Giving Giving, receiving, sharing, and helping can connect to time, money, attention, or acts of service.	Our expectations of giving, receiving, or sharing is influenced by our homes, backgrounds, and cultures.	Goals don't always have to be about "getting" or "achieving;" we can set giving, sharing, and	Giving makes an impact, no matter how big or small the act
	Not everyone feels or reacts the same way to giving and/or receiving.	helping goals. When resources are scarce, make responsible decisions	Practice personal safety in all giving situations.
	Giving, receiving, sharing, and helping can lead to positive and negative emotions.	about allocation.	Giving is a way to contribute to our environments/ communities.

FEPPP Resource Package

Feelings Chart, developed by Arlie Neskahi (shared with his permission)

Past Loss			Future Loss
Depressed	Hurt		Defended	Cautious
Guilty	Apathetic		Sneaky	Scared stiff
Somber	Blue		Nervous	Insecure
Dejected	Sorrowful		Powerless	Jealous
Embarrassed	Defeated		Petrified	Resistant
Unworthy	Regretful		Frightened	Terrified
Dissatisfied	Silly		Intimidated	Uneasy
Humiliated	Let down		Fearful	Bashful
Hopeless	Melancholy		Apprehensive	Unsure
Alone	Betrayed		Threatened	Uncomfortable
Heartbroken	Tender		Worried	Ridiculous
Weak	Bored		Agitated	Secretive
Lost	Disappointe	d	Timid	Horrified
Remorseful	Miserable		Agonized	Shocked
Worthless	Moody		Frantic	Panicked
Envious
		ANGER
LOW		MEDIUM		HIGH
Irritated	Bothered	Disgusted	Frustrated	Enraged
Bugged	Irked	Pissed	Loathsome	Irate
Disturbed	Upset	Ticked	Incensed	Furious
Perturbed	Touchy	Upset	Resentful	Hateful
	Irritated	Mad	Bitter	Seething
	-	Aggravated	d Sulky	Vicious
	Offended	Indignant	Fuming
		Mortified
		Adamant	Uptight
	Outraged
Pa	ast Gain		Future Gain
Thankful	Passionate		Thrilled	Anxious
Pleased	Relieved		Excitement	Giddy
Cheerful	Glowing		Exuberant	Fired up
Mellow	Gratified		Positive	Confident
Elated	Нарру		Anxious	Assured
Glad	Ecstatic		Hope	Capable
Satisfied	Pleasant		Excited	Expectant
JOY
Content Whole Peaceful Bliss Content Balanced

FEPPP Resource Package

Feelings Chart, developed by Arlie Neskahi (shared with his permission)

SAMPLE LIST OF BASIC HUMAN NEEDS--adapted from Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs Maslow created this model after studying the Life Ways of the Blackfoot of Alberta around 1938

> PHYSICAL grieve air guidance water self-worth food to be unique shelter to be an individual relaxation achievement sleep competence

confidence sex respect SAFETY control security organization creativity freedom safety consistency success

trust celebration boundaries recognition involvement

EMOTIONAL contribute express feelings ESTEEM

communication understanding knowledge exploration attention acceptance understanding belonging appreciate beauty artistic expression sharing inclusion congruence validation order for love balance to love spirituality for caring

SELF ACTUALIZATION to care for support reach our full potential comfort do what we are capable of doing do this to the best of our capability reassurance

When these NEEDS go UNMET in our lives, either by historical or present loss, we usually get really MAD! And we will usually stay MAD, until we make CHOICES that MEET these NEEDS again in our lives.